PRESIDENT OF BOLIVIA IS PRISONER

Seized by His Own Country's Troops on Chaco War Front

CENSORS KEEPING FACTS UNCERTAIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP).—A sudden overturn of the Bolivian Government was disclosed today, through advices received here that Daniel Salamanca, Bolivian president, had been arrested by troops on the Chaco war front.

Apparently as part of a carefully planned coup d'etat, Vice-President Jose Luis Tejada Sorzano was reported to have seized control of La Paz, the capital.

United States officials tonight were apprehensive over what effect the apparent coup might have on League of Nations' efforts to bring peace in the Chaco war between Bolivia and Paraguay. In the absence of complete official dispatches, however, they declined to comment.

NO CONFIRMATION
A censorship was clamped down in La Paz and advices reaching Washington were brief and not officially confirmed.

President Salamanca apparently was seized when he traveled to the Chaco front in an effort to replace the commander-in-chief of the Bolivian Army, who recently has been reported to have been arrested.

President-Elect Tamayo, President Salamanca's two daughters and the Minister of War also were reported to have been arrested.

MAJOR SENSATION

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Nov. 28 (AP).—The news of a turbulent internal situation in Bolivia, which had been forecast in some morning newspapers here, furnished a major sensation tonight in the Paraguayan capital.

It was generally expected that Bolivia's political uproar would aid the Paraguayans in their Chaco campaign.

RESIGNED UNDER PRESSURE

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 28 (AP).—Reliable reports received here tonight said President Daniel Salamanca, of Bolivia, resigned his office today under pressure.

The reports, given credence despite public denial, said Vice-President Jose Luis Tejada Sorzano called the Cabinet together and requested its resignation. Some of the ministers, however, refused to present their resignations at once in protest against the President's forced resignation.

DIRECT CHARGE HANDED LEAGUE

Jugoslavia Formally Blames Hungarian Gov't for Complicity in Assassination

GENEVA, Nov. 28 (AP).—A seventy-eight-page memorandum formally charging the Hungarian Government with complicity in the assassination of King Alexander at Marseille, last month, was delivered to the League of Nations today by M. M. Potich, the Yugoslav delegate.

League observers declared the Belgrade protest exceedingly grave because it spoke of the direct responsibility of the Budapest Government, whereas Yugoslavia's original letter to the League Council referred only to Hungarian authorities.

The memorandum charged that it was due solely to the toleration and assistance given by certain Hungarian authorities that a gang of assassins and terrorists was able to form a veritable school of crime, founded on Hungarian soil.

"It was in this nursery of terrorism that the organizers of the outrage against Alexander came to seek and select the executioners of their abominable crime," it alleged.

Border Officials Fail To Find Magician's Pig

FORE ERIE, Nov. 28 (AP).—Howard Thurston's "greatest demonstration of magic" (he said so himself) in which, without stage settings, a little pig became a rabbit, changed into a duck, and then turned into a white rat, was a failure. As a result, the magician went on a Canadian tour without the pig, barred by quarantine regulations.

Thurston, crossing the border here, had no quarantine certificate for the pig, which mysteriously disappeared in a hat. The customs men said it would have to be left behind. The magician had a certificate for a rabbit, and the pig

WOULD 'PEG' FOOD PRICES

Witness at Inquiry Offers Plan to Prevent Ruthless Price Cutting

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP).—Pegged prices for foodstuffs, drugs and retail staples were proposed before the Parliamentary Mass Buying Commission, today, by Joseph Crowder, Toronto merchandising investigator. To forestall chain and department stores from forcing down general price levels by underselling among themselves, he suggested that manufacturers and distributors be empowered to fix prices for their goods, below which no retailer could cut.

In a comprehensive report on chain stores and their effect on general retailers and manufacturers, Crowder, formerly a Vancouver druggist and chain manager, gave numerous examples of ruinous price competition among mass buyers. In recent years, manufacturers, he said,

They plan to fly to San Francisco tomorrow.

Vast Crowds Gather In London on Eve of Brilliant Wedding

Duke Takes No Chance by Defiance of Popular Superstition

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP).—Whether by accident or by design, the Duke of Kent is not defying the old superstition that it is unlucky to see one's bride on the wedding day before meeting her in church.

After he had returned to Buckingham Palace with Princess Marina and the Royal company last night from the theatre, a crowd lingering outside the palace began guessing whether he would overstay the midnight hour.

As Big Ben's minute hand approached the vertical position the crowd began to get excited about it. At exactly 11:59 p.m., there was a sigh of relief as the Duke dashed from the entry of the palace, jumped into a waiting machine and drove off to his residence at St. James.

Premier Pattullo announced creation of the commission yesterday morning, without previous warning.

Duke of Kent and Princess Marina Pays Surprise Visit to Theatre

ALL KEYED TO HIGH PITCH OF EXCITEMENT

(Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 28—London, bedecked in all its finery for the marriage of the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina, cast apprehensive eyes at the weather man's forecast that fog might mar the decade's most brilliant social event.

With the capital in its most festive mood since Londoners danced in the streets at the signing of the Armistice, weather officials who furnished periodic reports throughout the day predicted "local fog early, but only mist during the greater part of the day."

However, there was no idea of letting the weather interfere with the precise schedule of the gorgeous pageantry of the wedding of the King's fourth son and Princess Marina.

H. H. STEVENS WINS DEBATE

Meeting Finds Big Business Curse When Run Solely for Profit Motive

TORONTO, Nov. 28 (CP).—"The manipulators of big business are the real Government of Canada," declared Hon. H. H. Stevens before University of Toronto students, at Hart House, tonight.

Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, was the last speaker in a debate on the resolution: "That in the opinion of this house, big business is a curse when directed solely by the profit motive."

"Now, don't get me wrong," he continued. "I do not say, nor would I admit, that the leaders of big business personally interfere with the operation of the Government, but the very nature of the laws of the country and the character of this big business, as defined in the resolution, exerts an economic influence which supplants government control."

AFFIRMATIVE WINS

Mr. Stevens was the last speaker for the affirmative, and at the conclusion of his address the house voted, 207 to 88, in favor of the resolution.

Leaders of the teams were S. E. Rae, of University College, for affirmative, and J. S. Woods, Trinity College, for the negative. Both were ably supported by strong teams of debaters. A. C. Smith presided as speaker of the house.

"And here is a fact of which I am ashamed, and I am sure you will be,"

Accord Plan Will Be Held In Abeyance

PARIS, Nov. 28 (AP).—The disputed Franco-Soviet "understanding" for military aid was reliably stated tonight to be held in abeyance for the moment.

Leon Archimbaud, reporter for the Budget, insisted in Parliament that the agreement exists, but the Government has denied there is "any military accord."

Foreign Commissioner Maxim Litvinoff was reported to have told French Foreign Minister Pierre Laval at Geneva that he was anxious to make some accord to justify the Soviet entrance into the League of Nations.

Install New Bishop With Ancient Rites Of Catholic Church

Colorful and Impressive Ceremony Marks Enthronement of Rt. Rev. John Hugh Macdonald at St. Andrew's Cathedral Here Last Night

PROFOUNDLY impressive traditional rites, in accordance with the directions of the episcopal ceremonial carried out from time immemorial in the Roman Catholic Church, were observed in connection with the installation here last evening of the new Bishop of Victoria, Rt. Rev. John Hugh Macdonald.

Although it was the third time in the space of little more than ten years that the colorful ceremonial has taken place in St. Andrew's Cathedral, the enthronement was witnessed by more than a thousand people, the church being filled to overflowing, even standing room being at a premium.

The rites lacked nothing of the dignity of either of these previous events, and, as is customary on such occasions, the ceremony was honored by the presence of many visiting bishops from different parts of the West. Their purple and gold vestments added a fine splash of color, which was supplemented by

Sir John Simon Declares There Are No Advocates of Unilateral Disarmament—Baldwin's Speech Urging Germany to Abandon Policy of Secrecy Delivered to Other Powers

Most Reports of German Rearmament Exaggerated

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP).—Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, wound up a "council of state" debate on home defences in the House of Commons, tonight, by announcing that the full contents of Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin's speech, urging Germany to abandon her policy of secrecy and isolation, had been delivered to Germany, France, Italy and the United States with a full explanation by the Foreign Office.

Sir John's announcement climaxed an all-day debate on Imperial defence. The House rejected an amendment to the Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne offered by Winston Churchill, declaring Great Britain's defences were entirely inadequate, and approved the Government's Address.

The Foreign Secretary emphasized that there was no difference of opinion in Great Britain on the question of defence. There were no advocates of unilateral disarmament.

HELPED CLEAR SUSPICION

He said Mr. Baldwin's plea that Germany ease the condition of nervous apprehension in Europe by tearing away the veil of secrecy, had helped clear suspicion. That speech had been of great value, he said, because this is not an Anglo-German proposition, but a European and world proposition.

"We have thus helped to clear away a great deal of suspicion. The communications to other governments constituted a new development and might create a new situation if we can get international agreement."

"We should like an agreement on disarmament at the lowest possible level. If we cannot get an attainable ideal, we must seek an agreement at the lowest level possible. We stand for regulated limitation as opposed to competition and unregulated arming."

"We ask the House to help us treat this as constituting a new opportunity."

BROADCASTING CALL FOR HELP

Freighter Sends Out SOS. When Disabled by Typhoon Near Luzon

MANILA, Nov. 29 (AP).—Caught in a typhoon such as have lashed this part of the world recently, the Philippine American freighter New York flashed an SOS call for help today. The ship carries a crew of about forty men.

The message said: "One boiler disabled. Looks bad. Please stand by."

A later message from the New York said she was drifting in the lee of the shore near San Bernardino Straits, at the southeastern end of Luzon Island, on which Manila is located.

SAILED FROM MANILA

The New York, a vessel of 3,468 net tons, commanded by Captain Boe, sailed from Manila on November 23, headed for San Francisco and Portland, Ore. She was en route to the small port of Tobasco, near Legaspi, to take aboard a cargo of copra when the typhoon struck.

The weather bureau here reported winds of more than seventy-five miles an hour velocity in the islands of Samar and Leyte, forecasting that the storm would pass to the south of Manila.

CAREER ENDED IN DIRTY DITCH

"Baby Face" Nelson, Gangster and Murderer, Found Riddled With Bullets

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP).—The crime career of George (Baby Face) Nelson, twenty-five-year-old Dillinger gangster, ended today in a muddy ditch, where he was found a victim of bullets fired by the same two Federal agents he had killed in a gun battle yesterday.

The body of the United States public enemy No. 1 was found wrapped in a garish blanket in a culvert on a lonely prairie near suburban Miles Centre.

His body was unclothed, and stained with blood which had gushed from a seventeen bullet wound he suffered in a furious gun battle in suburban Barrington with two Government agents, Samuel P. Cowley and Herman E. Hollis.

The Federal men died apparently without knowing that the slugs they pumped from machine gun and shotgun had mortally wounded their opponent.

Seventeen of the bullets fired by Cowley and Hollis before they fell into Nelson, but only one of them found a vital mark.

Chief A. C. Stolberg, of the Miles Centre force, and Government Operatives McKee and McCarthy, pledged to avenge the murder of their colleagues, came upon Nelson's riddled body at 2 p.m.

MISSIONARIES IN BANDITS' HANDS

CHANGSHA, Hunan Province, China, Nov. 29 (AP).—Hopes were raised here, today, for the survival of a group of American and other foreign missionaries, captured by bandits last month in Northern Kweichow Province.

Chinese Christians in Szechuan Province reported seeing the captives a fortnight ago, near Suichuan, in the extreme southeast portion of Szechuan.

The captives, including Miss Grace Emblem, a British subject who once lived in Altoona, Pa., and a Swiss missionary, were originally reported held for $500,000 ransom money. Later reports said they had been released, but they never appeared.

have been powerless to maintain decent prices for their products, and have been forced to accept the dictates of chain and department store buyers.

EFFECT OF PRICE-CUTTING

Through mass buying and mass advertising, chain and department stores fixed prices for their own competitors and eventually for the trade as a whole, Crowder said. He gave many examples of drug and food chains selling at cost or a fraction of a cent above, while independent merchants were unable to purchase the same goods at prices several cents higher.

Mr. Crowder, who has been in the grocery trade, and its effect traced back to factory wages. In April, 1934, National Grocers bought a carload of jelly beans from William Paterson Limited, of Brantford, Ont., at prices of 9-1-2c and 9-3-4c a pound, which was 13.6 per cent below usual chain prices and 36.6 per cent below the prevailing list price.

SHOCKING WAGES

In the Paterson factory, at Brantford, "wages are shocking," Crowder said. Seventeen examples were cited, showing girls working for as little as $3.60 a week, the maximum indicated in the list being $10.70.

Another candy manufacturer, W. Robertson, of Robertson Brothers, Toronto, had refused to bid for the big volume of cut-rate business, and their production had decreased in consequence.

Mr. Crowder turned to the situation in cafes, showing employees to be working seventy-five hours a week for $6 and meals. A dishwasher who received this wage was an English ex-serviceman, married, who had served in the war from the Spring of 1915 until demobilization. Illustrating the "dominating position" of chain stores in retail merchandising, Mr. Crowder produced exhibits of advertising in Toronto by these organizations, for one day in November, 1933.

SPACE DOMINATION

"The amount of space dominated by the price-feature advertising of foodstuffs totals eight pages," said Mr. Crowder, "a veritable newspaper itself."

Similar copies of advertisements were produced for the drug chains. "An interesting feature of the chain store advertising is that drugists now advertise on Wednesday and the grocers on Thursday," said Mr. Crowder. "The grocery advertising so dominates the Thursday issue that the drugists insert their advertisement on Wednesday to receive attention."

The dominating position enjoyed by the chains was out of all proportion to their importance as distributors, since they had only 18.3 per cent of the total sales volume of Canada's retail business.

Clergy Welcome New Catholic Bishop

Twenty-five or thirty bishops and priests from Western Canadian and American dioceses were present at the C.P.R. dock yesterday afternoon to take part in the brief formalities of welcoming the new Bishop of Victoria, Rt. Rev. John Hugh MacDonald, as he came off the Ss. Princess Alice. Reading from left to right, those shown in the picture are Father J. Osborne, Victoria (retired); Father C. E. Evans, Campbell River; Rt. Rev. Bishop Melanson, Gravelbourg, Sask.; Father Ronald Beaton (former administrator), Victoria; Rt. Rev. P. J. Monahan, Calgary; Father Kennedy, Comox; His Worship Mayor Leeming, Alderman James Adam, Father Anselm B. Wood, Esquimalt; Most Rev. W. Cunningham, C. S.R., Vancouver; Father J. A. Gaudette, Victoria; Rt. Rev. E. M. Bunos, Bishop of Prince Rupert; Father C. T. Albury, Victoria, and Father E. M. Schelen, Sanicthon.

INSTALL NEW BISHOP OF CATHOLIC CHURCH

orated with the gold and white papal colors, evident in the festoons draped from the roof to the four corners of the church and round the walls of the sanctuary: in the papal flag, which, paired with the Union Jack, decked the pillars; in the gold and white chrysanthemums that filled the vases on the altar, around the feet of the statues, and among the myriad tapers and candles that lighted the chapels and niches about the walls.

The processional itself, in which some ten bishops, each attended by at least two assistant priests, took part, was a most impressive sight.

A few minutes before 8 o'clock it formed outside the entrance to the church, and moved slowly, under a canopy of fluttering papal flags and pennants, to the door of the cathedral, where it was received by a second processional, led by the Very Rev. Father Ronald Beaton, administrator for the diocese. An outstandingly impressive figure in the first procession was Most Rev. William M. Duke, Archbishop of Vancouver, in his purple Cappa Magna, borne by train bearers, and wearing also an ermine cape and purple biretta.

The new Bishop of Victoria, who is tall and dignified, was another striking figure, in gold cope and white alb decorated with lace, beneath that the purple of a bishop, and on his head a gold and purple mitre.

SLIGHT DRIZZLE

A slight drizzle fell while the procession was forming on View Street, but this did nothing to deter the crowds of onlookers, many of whom had stood for an hour or more. Knights of Columbus, wearing their regalia, brought up the rear of the long line of clergy, and behind them came a group of men in lay dress, members of the Holy Name Society.

While the congregation gathered, a programme of sacred music was played, Miss Marguerite McKay being at the console of the organ. A special programme of music was arranged in connection with the rites, with Arthur Cowden conducting the augmented choir.

ORDER OF CEREMONIES

Arriving at the door of the Cathedral, Bishop MacDonald and his retinue were received by the administrator, Rev. Fr. Beaton, and the smaller procession that had gone with him through the church. The procession then moved up the middle aisle, after the administrator had presented the crucifix and sprinkler to the new bishop. Conducted to the high altar, special prayers were then recited by the administrator on behalf of Bishop MacDonald, the bulls of whose appointment were thereafter read, both in Latin and in English, by Rev. Father Wood, before the new bishop was led to his throne.

After that, the order of ceremonies included the presenting, by the clergy of the diocese, of their homages to the new Bishop; the sermon by Archbishop Duke, response by Bishop MacDonald; the imparting by the new Bishop of an indulgence of fifty days to all present, and the Episcopal Blessing and Benediction.

THE MUSIC

The musical part of the proceedings was important, although secondary, and included the playing of the National Anthem during the entrance of the Lieutenant-Governor and his suite; the singing of the Te Deum during the entry of the processional; the singing of the antiphon, "Tu es Petrus," while the clergy were paying their homage at the throne; the singing of the antiphon of St. Andrew after the Bishop's address, and the singing by the Bishop of the prayer, in which he showed a voice of fine magnitude and firmness.

OFFICIAL GUESTS

In addition to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and his aides, who were received at the east door by Rev. Fr. Gaudette, and a guard of honor furnished by the Knights of Columbus, there were seated in the body of the church the following specially invited guests: The Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Premier of British Columbia; D. B. Plunkett, M.P.; Hon. John Hart, Hon. Dr. K. C. MacDonald, Hon. G. McG. Sloan, and Hon. A. Wells Gray, representing the Province; His Worship Mayor Leeming, Reeve William Crouch, Reeve R. W. Mayhew, Reeve Lockley, Major-General E. C. Ashton, your hearts are filled with sentiments of joy and welcome in which we all participate in the touching ceremony of the installation of your new bishop. The ceremony you have just witnessed must recall to the minds of all the infinite love of Jesus Christ for mankind."

A HISTORIC SEE

"He has come here, a stranger among you, to take possession of this historic see of Victoria, and his credentials to come and your authority to receive him are contained alike in those letters or Bulls stamped with the Seal of the Fisherman at Rome, and read to you from the pulpit, tonight. The links in the apostolic succession stand out in a marked way, and the Holy See seems very near, tonight, to the clergy and people of this province."

Greetings were brought to the Catholic Sisters and Brothers in hospitals and schools, and to the fathers and mothers and little children, in Christian homes, "against which so many inroads are being made at the present time."

OFFICIAL GREETINGS

Last of all the new prelate extended greetings to the officials of the city and the Province, "the elected representatives of the people, those whose business it was to see to the protection of the common good." Theirs was an important office, and they would, he hoped, always call upon him if they felt he could help.

"I have come here, not to spend my time in leisure, but to work for the eternal salvation of those entrusted to my care; at the same time to try to work out the economic and social problems of this province, and to bring about economic and material and spiritual betterment of the community," Bishop MacDonald said in conclusion.

K. OF P. LODGE IS INSTITUTED

Cheminus Lodge No. 60, Knights of Pythias, was instituted and the new officers installed recently at the temple of Far West No. 1, K. of P., Broad Street.

The initiation work was put on by Victoria and Duncan Lodges. C. Peterson, G.C., and Ed Perry, V.C., were installed by G.C. George Allison; F. Beecham, M.W., and A. Jones, prelate, were installed by P.G.C. Chris Behnson; J. Howe, K. of R.S. B. Vernon, M. of F., and D. Stevens, M. of E., were installed by G.K. of R.S. Harding, of Vancouver; F. Work, M.A.; W. Murray, O.G., and R. Jones, I.G., were installed by D.G.C. A. A. Hockley. Bro. George Todd was grand M.A. and Bro. J. Hughes was G.P.

During the evening a banquet was served by Bro. W. Carter, with the assistance of Pythian Sisters of Island Temple No. 8.

For some time past, a number of Cheminus members have been affiliated with Duncan Lodge, but transportation difficulties, together with several new prospective members, led to the forming of a separate lodge in Cheminus. The meetings will be held in the K. of P. Hall, Cheminus, which building has for some time belonged to the Duncan Lodge.

Meetings will take place twice monthly, the first to be held on the second Thursday in December, when further details and a working programme will be arranged.

FROM FAR DIOCESE

It was not without some sacrifice that he had left the old and beloved surroundings and the people among whom he had spent so many years in the far-away diocese of Antigonish. As with a plant, so with man, it was easy to transplant when young, but not so easy when mature. His own roots had penetrated deeply into the soil of his native diocese, which offered a kindly soil because of the fervor with which the Catholic people practised their religion. But there was ample compensation in the kindness with which he had been received in the course of his tour across the continent, particularly in the warmth of the reception he had been given in Victoria and at this installation service.

Bishop MacDonald brought greetings from the clergy and people of his former diocese, as well as from the clergy and people of the various dioceses through which he had passed on his way across the continent. Always he had received the warmest hospitality.

STRENGTH OF FAITH

"I have been very pleased, while coming through the Prairie Provinces and parts of British Columbia, to observe how strongly the faith has been planted during the early years here, and the splendid organization that the church already has in this province," he said. Judging from the excellent work that has been done, he was sure that good government would prevail and that Christian civilization would certainly continue.

Tribute was paid, too, to those pioneer priests who have helped to lay the foundations. Many had reached a venerable age in the service of the church, under very trying conditions indeed, most of them living under circumstances that very much resembled those

Substantial Gains Shown by Mines of B.C. During Season

Estimated Value of Products in 1934 Is $41,863,150, Marking Increase of $9,260,478—Gold Alone Worth $10,480,921

BRITISH Columbia's combined mineral output may reach $41,863,150 this year, based on a department estimate given yesterday by Dr. John P. Walker, provincial mineralogist. At that level the mining industry would show an increase of 28.4 per cent for the year, increasing from an output worth $32,602,672 in Canadian funds in 1933.

Exchange equalization on gold alone is expected to touch $4,197,831, and is added to $6,283,089, the actual return of the gold output at statutory values. Increases show in nearly every division, save placer gold and structural materials. The estimated total value of the increase is put at $9,260,478.

ITEMIZED VALUES

Based on ten months' production, projected over the twelve-month period with reference to the missing months last year, the following itemized values of production are quoted: Placer gold, $357,000; lode gold, $5,926,089, at $20.67 an ounce; silver, $4,197,831; copper, $3,566,680; lead, $8,313,080; zinc, $7,647,051; coal, $5,682,250; structural materials, $906,800; miscellaneous metals and minerals, $1,041,500. These items total $37,665,319, to which is added the gold premium worth $4,197,831, for a total of $41,863,150.

Important gains were made by the following groups: Miscellaneous metals, 64.3 per cent; silver, 58.4 per cent; lode gold, 28.3 per cent; lead, 28 per cent; zinc, 22 per cent; copper, 12.3 per cent; coal, 5.7 per cent. Placer gold shrank by 12.2 per cent, and structural materials declined 11.5 per cent.

Imposing tonnages are returned in the base metal group, as follows:

Copper, 49,400,000 pounds; lead, 340,700,000 pounds; zinc, 250,950,000 pounds. Coal will reach 1,337,000 long tons; silver, 8,907,000 ounces; lode gold, 286,700 ounces, and placer gold, 21,000 ounces.

At $41,863,150, estimated production for the current year is narrowly the same as the average yield over the last twenty years, which was $43,570,610, though still far short of the peak value of $68,245,443, reached in 1929.

GOLD YIELD, $10,480,921

Gold values are expected to total $10,480,921, an increase of 50.6 per cent in value over last year. The average yield per ounce has been $34.48, compared with $28.60 last year.

Lead took second place, worth $8,313,080. Zinc followed, with $7,647,051; coal, with $5,682,250; silver, $4,197,831, and copper, $3,566,680, being next in order. Base metal prices tended upwards, with copper, however, below last year's figure at 7.22 cents per pound.

NON-METALLICS

Miscellaneous metals and minerals mined produced bentonite, blamuth, cadmium, diatomite, flux, gypsum, kyanite, iron, mica, phosphate, platinum (small), crushed slate, soda, sulphur content of pyrite and talc.

Peace May Depend on Him

Peace in Europe may hinge on the efforts of Pierre Laval, French Minister of Foreign Affairs, to establish a workable understanding between the Governments of France, Italy and Yugoslavia. Here he is shown surrounded by newspaper reporters as he emerged from a conference with President Lebrun, in which he refused to form a Cabinet in the place of the one which had resigned with Premier Doumergue. He said that he considered the Ministry of Foreign Affairs more important at the moment than the post of Premier.

Structural materials were slow during the year.

Mining, comments Dr. Walker, has made a recovery of 45 per cent from the nadir of its depression in 1932.

It is roughly estimated that the public paid $12,558,500 for the purchase of mining stock during the year. Last year, four dividend-paying mining companies in British Columbia, with $30,500,000 in par-value stock, paid approximately $3,000,000 in dividends. This year, the same companies will pay $4,433,354. Provincial officials assert.

B.C. CAN FILL REQUIREMENTS

No Difficulty in Supplying Railway Ties to English Specifications

MONTREAL, Nov. 28 (CP).—If certain alterations in specifications are allowed by the directors, British Columbia certainly, and the Maritime Provinces possibly, can supply railway sleepers to the London, Midland & Scottish Railway, two officers of the English railway stated here today after a survey of Canada.

W. J. Manclark, purchasing assistant to the chief of stores superintendent of the L.M.S., declared if minor alterations in the ties were approved and if ties from the Baltic seaports were not lowered in price, British Columbia, at least, to supply part of the railway's 1,250,000 tie requirements each year.

With J. W. Eville, permanent way assistant to the chief engineer of the L.M.S., he has completed a tour of Canada from coast to coast and has also visited Newfoundland. They will return to the Maritimes before sailing for England.

STANDARD SIZES

The standard British railway tie is 8 ft. 6 ins. long, 10 ins. wide and 5 ins. thick, while the standard Canadian tie is 8 ft. long, and 9 ins. by 7 ins., or 9 ins. by 6 ins. in other dimensions, Mr. Manclark explained.

"When we were in the Maritimes we were told there was some doubt if the average run of trees would make it possible to produce ties of the size we need," he said. "We were also told, however, of exceptional stands of jackpine which would do for our purposes, and some lumbermen thought they might move mills into such stands for our business."

Timber of all sizes is readily available in British Columbia and the two investigators said they are satisfied after consultation with lumbermen of the Pacific Coast the railway may obtain a cheaper tie there, if certain changes are permitted.

WARNED NOT TO DISPLEASE HUEY

Louisiana University Students Suspended for Part in Angering State Dictator

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 28 (AP).—President James M. Smith of Louisiana State University, said last night that twenty-five students of journalism had been suspended for "gross disrespect" because they signed a petition today condemning university authorities for "censoring" The Reveille, student publication.

The entire staff of The Reveille resigned because President Smith informed them they would not be permitted to print anything that might be displeasing to Senator Huey P. Long, the state's dictator.

Students of the journalism school met today and drew up petitions declaring they would not contribute anything further to the newspaper until the staff was restored and the "censorship" lifted.

The office of The Reveille was closed and deserted.

On the door was a sign: "Defunctus—By order of Huey, the state, the god. For sale, one key to Reveille office."

VICTORIA RESIDENTS ASK ADVISABILITY OF ESTABLISHING AIRPORT

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau has received inquiries from local residents asking whether it would be advisable for the city to make some effort to establish an airport in view of the approaching trans-Pacific flight from Canada to Australia, and also in view of the fact that the Dominion Government has, during the past year, quietly but steadily, built airports in suitable localities right across Canada.

It is pointed out that, apparently under present arrangements, Victoria will be left entirely off air route maps.

DEATH STALKS ON ICY STREET

Boy Killed in Winnipeg—Accidents Send Eight to Hospital

WINNIPEG, Nov. 28 (CP).—Ice-coated streets and sidewalks last night caused the death of one boy and minor injuries to many persons, eight of them in hospital as the result of traffic accidents.

Bumping of automobiles, skidding on the slippery streets, were numerous. Pedestrians quit sidewalks to walk on boulevards, where footing was more certain. Sand was spread on many streets and sidewalks, but not all had been grained in time to prevent accidents.

Grabbing a passing truck, twelve-year-old Donald Morrin went speeding along a street on his skates. His brother Leonard, sixteen, saw the danger and shouted to Donald to let go the truck. Donald released his grip, lost his balance and fell beneath the wheels. He was dead when rushed to the hospital.

Jean Borotra, France, and H. "Bunny" Austin, England, two international tennis stars, have both, by American promoters for him to express the opinion that Fred Perry, world's ranking player, should accept the large money offers made to him.

THE ROYAL WEDDING

Imperial interest to an unusual degree will be centred today on Westminster Abbey, where the wedding of Prince George and the Princess Marina of Greece will take place. It is more than eleven years since there has been a royal wedding in London, the last being when the Duke of York was betrothed to the Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon. He was the first of the King's four sons to be married. The Duke of Kent is the next, and the happiness that has arisen from the first union is a pleasant augury of the outcome of today's event.

His Royal Highness has a full share of the respect, love and loyalty that the reigning House of Great Britain has won throughout the Imperial domain. His training has been in accord with the well-known traditions of that House. Having first engaged in some years of service with the Navy, he supplemented this training at the Foreign Office, where it is well known he worked hard and acquired an excellent insight into Great Britain's diplomatic relations with other countries. Following this apprenticeship he has taken part, particularly lately, in many of those representative duties that fall to the lot of Royalty. He has a genial presence, is a ready speaker and is possessed of some at least of those characteristics which have won such a world-wide popularity for his elder brother, the heir to the Throne. Like that brother, too, his duties have gained him a close acquaintance with the industrial conditions in Great Britain and with Empire affairs. Last Spring he returned from a tour which took him through the Union of South Africa, the two Rhodesias, the Belgian Congo and Portuguese West Africa. In character and personality he has won respect wherever he has gone.

The Princess Marina has already endeared herself to the British people by her grace and charm. She is twenty-eight years old, and the third of the three daughters of Prince Nicolas, Duke of the Kings of Greece and Denmark, and of Princess Olga, the wife of Prince Paul of Yugoslavia. Her other sister, the Princess Elizabeth, is unmarried. The mother of Princess Marina, before her marriage, was the Grand Duchess Helena of Russia, while her grandfather was Prince William of Denmark, who became King of the Hellenes under the title of George I. He was a son of King Christian IX of Denmark, who was a brother of Queen Alexandra. The Princess is a fluent linguist and speaks English well. She has many tastes in common with the Duke of Kent, notably a love for music and a keen interest in dancing and shooting.

The wedding in London today, because of its dual setting, at Westminster Abbey and in the private chapel at Buckingham Palace, and because of the presence of so many notables, eclipses in interest any affair of its character for some decades past. Among representatives of Royal Houses of Europe who are present are the King and Queen of Denmark, the King and Queen of Norway, King George of Greece, Princess Elizabeth of Greece, Princess Juliana of Holland, Prince Peter of Greece, Princess Eugenia of Greece, Prince Paul of Greece, the Prince and Princess of Hohenzollern-Langenburg, Prince and Princess Rene of Bourbon, Princess Helen of Rumania, the Grand Duke Vladimir of Russia, the Grand Duke and Duchess of Hesse, and the Count of Flanders, as well as guests from all nations who are represented at the Court of St. James.

A SUPREME MILITARY FEAT

General von Kluck, who died recently at the age of eighty-eight, used to be styled by his fellow-countrymen "von Unglück"—the unlucky. It is doubtful if he would have subscribed to this nickname himself. He commanded the First German Army in its drive for Paris in the opening weeks of the Great War, and he found lying athwart his path the British Expeditionary Force which he was unaware had left England. It first opposed his advance at Mons, then at Le Cateau. The British were forced to retreat in alignment with the French Armies, and von Kluck, seeing the stubborn character of the opposition, sought to destroy the British force with overwhelming numbers of men. He failed, and when almost within sight of Paris he was ordered to retreat by the Supreme German Command. Von Kluck was a good sportsman and admitted the redoubtable valor of the British troops, to whom, indeed, he assigned his inability to reach Paris, not to any ill luck that had attended him. Of the British Expeditionary Force he said:

"In the whole history of the world there is, in my opinion, no military feat which has ever excelled or equaled that of the First British Army. My admiration for that Army is greater than I can express." That Army deprived Germany of her ambition to reach Paris and end the war by a sudden blow. Despite the terrible disappointment it must have been to von Kluck, to whom this task was assigned, he was generous enough, when the war ended, to pay an unequalled tribute to the valor of Great Britain's "Contemptibles."

TESTS OF KNOWLEDGE

There is much palaver and speculation as to the extent to which state education is directed on right lines. Perhaps more would be learned in this particular were newspapers throughout the country to follow the example of The Stratford Beacon-Herald, and, on their own account, test pupils on current events. A Beacon-Herald reporter determined to find out how personalities fix themselves in the mind of the child of ten years old and to determine the extent to which current events are familiar to children of this age. It is possible that nothing of any value is secured by such an investigation, unless, indeed, it is of public interest to know how the childish mind responds to the claims of what should be common knowledge.

Some pupils, and more than a few, in Grade five of three city schools in Stratford, believe that Mr. Mitchell Hepburn is Premier of Canada. Very few pupils at all know who is the Prime Minister of the Dominion. It appears that the personality who bulks largest in the minds of children of ten years of age is Babe Ruth. However, to offset this predilection, it is generally known who is President of the United States, and the knowledge of youth about the Royal Wedding that takes place today shows that close attention is being paid to this event. Another discovery made was that the children of today are not reading the same books as children of former generations. Many were asked what character in fiction had been named after a day in the week. Not even 7 per cent could answer this, which indicates a great decrease in the popularity of Robinson Crusoe.

Rather simple questions were asked the pupils as befitted their age. Most of them were assured that a Holstein was a cow, but they were all mixed up in determining what its color was. Some thought it was brown, some red, and others agreed that black and white was a fitting combination for the animal. In one school the reporter found that a five-minute period is assigned to the reciting and discussion of current events, but that these are confined to sports or accidents, or something unusual. Possibly this is accounted for by the appeal of the spectacular to children. In any case "current events," as decreed at the school in question, hardly include those happenings which determine the course of history.

DEFENDERS OF CANADA

Sir Maurice Hankey, Secretary of the Imperial Defence Committee, is visiting Australasia, South Africa and Canada, and the assumption is that he is sounding these Dominions to see what co-operation may be expected in the matter of Imperial defence. This is a question which, in the light of world happenings, is likely to assume more importance all the time. Possibly, too, it explains the reason why different newspapers in this country are drawing attention to a situation which is anything but creditable to the people of the Dominion. The Montreal Star has pointed out that Canada is not bearing her share of the White Man's Burden. That fact is emphasized even more emphatically by The St. Thomas Times-Journal, which, in discussing the approaching visit of Sir Maurice Hankey, says:

"We in Canada are given to boasting that we have no armed borders or fortifications, forgetting that Canada is very heavily defended just the same. Its defence for the last hundred years or more has been the British Army and the British Navy, paid for almost entirely by the taxpayers over there. Because we do not see them, we harbor the idea that we haven't got any army or navy, therefore we do not need to pay for them. But it is the fact of the British Army and Navy standing in the background that has kept Canada a free country. The British Navy is just as much for the protection of Canadian trade as the British Army is for the protection of Canadian territory. Through belligerent areas by British warships there could be no Canadian trade, because the Canadian Navy is a joke so far as fighting and protective capacities are concerned. It looks as if something concrete may result at last. Canada cannot 'sponge' for an indefinite period on the British taxpayer. If we have self-government we must also assume the responsibilities of that position. And one of them is responsibility for defence."

IN THE COAST HILLS

From dawn to sundown I ride free, apart,
High on the trail and miles from road to town:
I need not listen when dusk vapors start
Ringing to call me down.

But after stars bloom and the twilight fades,
I am grown lonely in my liberty.
Tomorrow I shall sit behind drawn shades
In valley company.

News and Nonsense

By M. A. B.

In these times, when men divide sharply on matters of politics, and when patronage rules, it is pleasing indeed to witness the action of the Pattullo Administration in naming a provincial highway after one of the staunchest Conservatives in British Columbia. Yesterday, near Trail, a plaque was unveiled on the road between Rossland and Trail setting forth the fact that henceforth the route should be known as the "Schofield Highway." This gesture was made in the presence of Mr. James Hargrave Schofield, the man whom the road honors. Mr. Schofield was a member of the Provincial House longer than any other man. He was first elected at the general election in 1907 and was present at every session until he retired from politics last year. He held two records—that for long attendance, and the other that he never made a speech. Despite the fact that he never took up the time of the Assembly in speech-making, Mr. Schofield was a most valuable member. His work on committees was sound and sensible, while he was indefatigable in looking after the interests of his constituency and of the Interior country generally. A staunch Conservative, he never permitted his adherence to that cause to embitter friendships with men of other political persuasions. When he retired, his decision to withdraw from public life was lamented by men of all political beliefs, for, to quote the words of Mr. Tom Uphill, Labor member, he was "the best loved man in politics." In doing honor to Mr. Schofield, the Government has honored itself. It is to be hoped that Mr. Schofield will live long to enjoy travel over his own highway.

Typical of the manner in which residents of this continent seem to be losing their appreciation of values, is the account of the killing of Mr. George ("Baby Face") Nelson, characterized as Public Enemy No. 1 by the United States Government, and the slaying by Nelson and a companion of two Federal agents, H. E. Hollis and S. P. Cowley. The telegraphic reports of the triple killing give a somewhat detailed account of the hectic career in crime of the Pacific Northwest desperado.

The only interest of my department is in the man who wants to put his money into the ground, not in turning over stocks at a profit or loss," he said. "The man who puts money into mining must expect to take unusual chances. There is a vast difference between the speculator in mining properties and the gambler in stocks. My department will do what it can to see that the mining speculator gets a run for his money. We are trying to see that information is authentic. We try to see that the purpose of the promoter is honest. Speculators in mining ought to first ascertain if information is reliable before putting up their money."

Mr. Pearson stated a major aim of the department is to interest young men in industry. In the past, he said, there had not been sufficient emphasis placed on the importance and scope for young men in the primary industries of this province. To this end, mining lectures are conducted regularly and the lectures are available by correspondence also.

He concluded his address by stating that the Government is willing to reconstruct mining laws if necessary for the good of the industry.

WANTS SURVEY SPEEDED UP

Provincial Minister of Mines Stresses Need of Geological Knowledge

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28 (CP)—The Dominion Government is being urged to speed up and intensify the geological survey of British Columbia, Hon. George S. Pearson, Provincial Minister of Mines, stated today in addressing members of the British Columbia Division, Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, in convention here.

Mr. Pearson declared this province is far behind in information available as to its mineral resources. Most parts of the province have never been explored properly, he said, and it is the unexplored country that is most attractive to many prospectors. For this reason, he said, more extensive geological information would prove of great help.

"The present tendency is to develop known and rich properties," he declared. "It is my opinion that the department should encourage the development of new properties."

Mr. Pearson stated a major aim of the department is to interest young men in industry. In the past, he said, there had not been sufficient emphasis placed on the importance and scope for young men in the primary industries of this province. To this end, mining lectures are conducted regularly and the lectures are available by correspondence also.

He concluded his address by stating that the Government is willing to reconstruct mining laws if necessary for the good of the industry.

SAYS MILLIONS CAN BE SAVED

Chief Inspector of Mines Advocates Erection of Hydro-generation Plant

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28 (CP).—Eighteen million dollars could be conserved annually and enormous benefit done the coal mines of British Columbia through erection of a modern hydro-generation plant, James Dickson, Chief Inspector of Mines for British Columbia, told delegates to the British Columbia Branch of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy in annual session here today.

British Columbia annually spends $12,000,000 for importation of gasoline and $6,000,000 for fuel oil, Dickson said. This money could be kept at home and employment for additional hundreds of coal miners provided through use of the hydro-generation plant. The plant, using British Columbia coal, could produce all the gasoline and fuel oil needed in the province, Dickson declared, turning out gasoline at fourteen to sixteen cents per gallon and making the province independent of any outside source of supply.

Last year, fuel oil importations alone displaced 1,000,000 tons of coal. The value of the province's 1,300,000 tons of coal produced was estimated at $5,000,000, and development of coal as a source of oil and gasoline supply would greatly benefit the coal industry and keep millions of dollars at home.

LORD ASHLEY IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., as Co-respondent, Must Pay Costs of Action in England

LONDON, Nov. 28 (AP).—Lord Ashley was granted a divorce decree today from Lady Ashley, and costs of the action were awarded against Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., named as co-respondent.

The decree, which gives the young nobleman divorce after six months' if contrary cause is not shown, was handed down shortly after the case came before Sir Roy Merriman. The suit was not defended and services of a jury were not required.

Lady Ashley is the former Sylvia Hawkes, medical comedy actress. Lawyers said it would require several days to fix the costs of the case, which Fairbanks is to pay, but estimated the figure probably would be in the region of £2,000 (about $10,000).

NEW PRELATE IS WELCOMED TO VICTORIA

BANQUET GIVEN IN HONOR OF BISHOP

Accompanied by a big group of churchmen who traveled from Vancouver in the same boat, Rt. Rev. John Hugh MacDonald, D.D., the new Roman Catholic Bishop of Victoria, whose formal enthronement took place last evening at St. Andrew's Cathedral, was welcomed by a huge concourse of official and non-official folk as he left the Ss. Princess Alice at the C.P.R. Docks here yesterday afternoon.

Formal greetings from the city of Victoria were extended to the prelate the moment he stepped ashore, Mayor David Leeming and Alderman James Adam representing the city. The formalities took but a few minutes, Bishop MacDonald immediately thereafter proceeding to the Bishop's Palace, View Street, to enjoy a few hours' rest in preparation for the arduous evening's programme.

TO BISHOP'S PALACE
 Almost the entire Roman Catholic community seemed to have gathered at the docks or along Belleville Street to greet their new bishop. Hundreds of motor cars fell into line behind the episcopal car as he drove off to Bishop's Palace, a motorcycle escort from the city police department leading the procession.

As he drove along the Causeway, Government Street, and View Street, to his new home, it was noticed by many that Bishop MacDonald looked about him with much interest, this being his first visit to Victoria, as it is also his first visit to Western Canada.

DINNER AT EMPRESS
 Only bishops and clergy were present at the dinner given in Bishop MacDonald's honor last evening in the Princess Empress private dining room.

Covers were laid for about forty guests, among whom were, in addition to the new head of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Victoria: Most Rev. William M. Duke, Archbishop of Vancouver and Metropolitan; Most Rev. Henry J. O'Leary, Archbishop of Edmonton; Most Rev. E. Buno, Vicar Apostolic of Prince Rupert and the Yukon; Most Rev. P. J. Monahan, Bishop of Calgary; Most Rev. L. J. A. Melanson, Bishop of Gravelbourg, Sask.; Most Rev. G. Shaughnessy, Bishop of Seattle; Rt. Rev. Lambert Burton, Abbot of Lacey; and Rt. Rev. Mgr. MacKinnon, Vancouver; and the many

DEATH CLAIMS MISS F. MEYER

Organizer of St. Joseph's Linen Showers Passes—Funeral Saturday

MISS FRANCES MEYER

Miss Frances (Fanny) Meyer, who, in 1909, organized the first St. Joseph's Hospital linen shower, passed away Tuesday at the hospital, where she had made her home for the past twenty-five years.

Miss Meyer was born in California eighty-five years ago, and came to Victoria as a child. After residing here for some time, she returned to California, but in 1903 returned to Victoria to take up her residence at St. Joseph's Hospital.

On the death of the then superior, Mother Province, Miss Meyer returned to California, but in 1909 she again came to Victoria to make her home in the newly-erected annex on Humboldt Street.

HOSPITAL WELFARE
 As a resident, she took great interest in the hospital's welfare, and organized the first linen shower held under the auspices of the hospital. It was such a success that it has been carried out annually by the Ladies' Aid.

Stricken by paralysis in 1926, Miss Meyer's activities were somewhat curtailed, but her interest never waned. She will be greatly missed at the hospital.

Requiem Mass will be conducted at St. Andrew's Cathedral on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, after which the remains will be laid at rest in Ross Bay Cemetery.

H. A. McCLELLAND OF NANOOS BAY PASSES

NANAIMO, Nov. 28.—The death occurred at the family residence, Nanos Bay, this morning, of Hugh Allan McClelland, thirty-nine-year-old superintendent of the Straits Lumber Co., at Nanos Bay. A native of Birch Falls, Ont., Mr. McClelland came to British Columbia in 1911 and had been in charge of the mill at Nanos Bay for the past eighteen months. Death is believed to have come as the result of a heart attack, as Mr. McClelland was apparently in his usual good health upon retiring last evening. Besides his widow, he leaves one son, Ronald, one sister, Mrs. A. Weatheron, Detroit, Mich., and three brothers, Wallace, of Vancouver; Verne, of Vernon; and Cecil, residing in the Interior.

CONDITIONS IN EAST IMPROVE

Col. Richard Angus, Back From Trip, Finds More Hopeful Spirit

Colonel Richard Angus has returned from a hurried business trip to the East. He went as far as Cleveland, but being pressed for time was unable to pay a visit to Eastern Canadian cities. His contact with business in the points visited in the United States impressed him with the decided change for the better in a commercial way.

The return to a more optimistic and hopeful spirit was much more in evidence, said Colonel Angus, than was the case on his former visits to the East. The conditions, he understood, were similar on the Canadian side, and it would appear that there has been a decided move for the better.

In crossing the Dakotas, however, Colonel Angus declared he could not help being struck by the extensive areas of land that seemed to have become unproductive. There was the evidence that farming had been carried on along lines which made for the impoverishing of the soil, with the result that what had once been rich producing sections for wheat had passed out of that classification and the land in many instances appeared to be deserted.

While he had not the opportunity of seeing the Canadian side, there was no doubt that the same conditions prevailed there, perhaps to a lesser extent, but in sufficient areas to afford warning that attention be given to maintaining the fertility of the soil.

BANISH COMMON CONSTIPATION WITH DELICIOUS CEREAL

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Look out for headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sallow complexion, sleeplessness. Frequently, these are warning signs of common constipation. If neglected, your health may be impaired.

Today, you can rid yourself of common constipation by eating a tempting cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also rich in iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes. How much better this is than taking patent medicines!

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will usually overcome most types of common constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal, if seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Jubilee W.A. Votes Large Sum of Money

At a meeting of the Senior Women's Auxiliary of the Jubilee Hospital, held yesterday afternoon, the sum of $1,024.68 was voted for various equipment and furnishings for the hospital, which will be divided as follows: $600 towards the portable X-Ray; $76 for linoleum for the utility room of the women's medical ward; $150 for linoleum for the men's medical ward; $48 for three goose-neck standard lamps for the maternity floor; $115.50 for three croup kettles; $27.50 for an electric baker for the third floor; and $7.68 for curtain material.

Miss Mitchell, who was present at the meeting, expressed her deepest thanks to the W.A. for again assisting the hospital by means of the annual linen shower, and asked that the cash received at the shower be used for buying sheets.

VOTE OF THANKS
Mrs. J. Phethean, the W.A. president, was in the chair, and announced that the total number of pieces received at the linen shower had amounted to 970, pillow slips from Mrs. Henry Heisterman and Mrs. F. Cameron being inadvertently omitted from the list of gifts already published. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to all who had assisted in making the shower such a success.

Mrs. J. L. Crimp reported two sewing meetings held in November, and Mrs. P. E. Taylor reported $8 received in dues from Mrs. H. R. Beaven, Mrs. D. R. Ker, Mrs. Alan Morkill and Mrs. H. Billingsley.

Travel Talk Will Be Given Shortly

Mrs. A. W. Mackenzie will give a travel talk, at I.O.D.E. Municipal Headquarters, View Street, on December 5. The continuity is made from Mrs. Mackenzie's diary, kept during her recent trip around the world. Through the courtesy of the Dollar Line, motion pictures of the scenes and events described by the raconteur will be shown.

Mrs. Mackenzie, who is the regent of H.M.S. Resolution Chapter, I.O.D.E., has chosen this method of sharing the adventures and pleasures of her journeys in foreign lands with those who do their traveling by means of books and pictures.

"THE CHILD"

By REGINALD H. WIGGINS, M.D.
C.M., L.M.C.C.

"RESULT OF TRAINING FUTURE MOTHERS"

The need, or rather the absolute necessity for instruction to our girls in school on the care and training of their future children, is: The all too common ignorant and indifferent care and training given our children today (which we do not want repeated in the next generation), due to the lack of instruction and preparation for motherhood, also the shamefully high infant and maternal mortality and morbidity (sickness) rates; and the tremendous numbers of mentally retarded, poorly trained and physically defective children—the result of ignorance in the proper and adequate care and training of our children.

The remedy is instruction in prenatal care and the care and training of infants and children, given at an appropriate age in the only institution where the province can command attendance and determine what instruction and training most effectively prepares for the business and duties of life—the school.

The assured results of this instruction wherever carried out, have been a lowered number of deaths and cases of sickness with infants and mothers and eventually of children of all ages; and fewer mentally retarded, poorly trained and physically defective children. Therefore increased efficiency, happiness and success of the citizenry.

The instruction if instituted and made a regular, compulsory part of the curriculum will be the most thorough and comprehensive of any given in the English-speaking world. Let British Columbia lead. It leads in some departments, why not in this the most worthwhile instruction that could possibly be given to our girls?

Tomorrow's article: "Work in Prevention of Disease."

"I'm very sorry you don't like my cakes," said the tea-shop proprietress haughtily. "But I can assure you this business has been built up almost entirely on my cookery."
"I don't doubt it, madam," said the customer. "With a few more buns like these you could build a house!"

Whitaker, D. Anderson (honorable mention), P. Thomas, P. Byrom, J. Hannigan; certificates from the Toronto Conservatory, piano, E. Lucas, J. Byrom (honors); theory, J. Byrom (first-class honors).

Treasures Exhibited at Delightful Antique Tea

Georgian and French Furniture Forms Fascinating Display at Y.W.C.A. — Affair Opened by Hon. T. D. Pattullo — Many Guests Attend

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Premier of British Columbia, in opening the "Antique Tea," held at the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon, expressed particular pleasure in being asked to officiate. He was aware, he said, of the splendid work which the association is doing, not only in Victoria but nationally, and that hundreds of young women had benefited through its efforts. The Premier's sister, Mrs. Percival Foster, of Toronto, is national field secretary of the Y.W.C.A. The Premier was introduced by Mrs. Roy Angus, president of the board of directors. The party was an outstanding success from every point of view. Seldom has the association building been so thronged with visitors, among whom were the Mayor and Mrs. Leeming.

TEA ARRANGEMENTS

Mrs. Richard Felton was general convener of the affair, and was ably assisted by a committee of Y.W.C.A. members. Tea was served in the main dining-room and in one of the small reception rooms. In the former there was a long green table, spread with a lace cloth, and arranged with beautiful silver candelabra with tall green lighted tapers, and a central bowl of pink chrysanthemums and anthuriums. Mrs. Alex Stewart was in charge of this room, and those presiding at the table, in turn, during the afternoon, were Mrs. David Leeming, Mrs. Donald MacEwan, Miss Agnew, Mrs. W. H. Molson, Mrs. John Hart, Mrs. Gordon Hunter, Mrs. Gordon Sloan and Mrs. J. O. Cameron.

Mrs. H. M. Cassidy was in charge of the second tea room, where a charming arrangement of peach-colored single chrysanthemums and matching candles in silver holders, made an effective note of color on the tea table. Those asked to pour tea here were Lady Barnard, Mrs. C. S. Quinlan, Mrs. Hermann Robertson, Mrs. Alex Gillespie, Mrs. Arthur Walsh, Mrs. J. H. Fletcher, Mrs. Alfred Carmichael and Mrs. C. S. Beals. Assisting in serving were the following members of the Beaux-Arts: Misses Patricia McCann, Mary-Lou Ross, Connie Hobbs, Clementine Sanderson, Doris McGeough, Margaret Vantrigh, Mrs. J. H. Molson, Mrs. J. H. Molson, Mrs. Lorraine Penney and Mrs. E. E. E.

Through the kindness of the Antique Galleries, beautiful silver tea services and candelabra had been loaned for the occasion.

GEORGIAN DISPLAY

Two of the reception rooms had been arranged by Mrs. Margaret Bartholomew and Mrs. Marian Guthrie, of Murdoch's Antiques, with a display of furniture of the Georgian period, showing a dining-room and morning-room such as might have been seen in the house of a middle-class family of average means. Everything displayed belonged to the period between 1770 and 1820, and the accessories, bric-a-brac, etc., were such as might have been "picked up" at the time when "The Grand Tour" was fashionable, and many objects of art were brought to England from the Continent. For instance, there was an exquisite Sevres bowl, which had been filled with bronze chrysanthemums; a charming old French scent bottle set; a Crown Derby vase standing on a little mahogany pedestal table, and Sevres candlesticks and vases on the mantelpiece.

On a lovely mahogany table was set a Georgian silver tea service, with beautiful green and gold Worcester teacups. At an old embroidery frame, a figure was seated, dressed in the costume of the day, and her needlework was in a real Georgian design.

In the dining-room group there was particular dignity and beauty of arrangement. Here, again, the Georgian period was followed carefully. A beautiful dining-table, which showed the Sheraton influence, was set with old Coalport dessert plates of green and gold, on which were antique English finger bowls, and beside them stood Christmas ale glasses. It is an interesting fact that Christmas ale has not been made since the year 1800. On a genuine Sheffield salver, in the centre of the table, chrysanthemums were arranged in an old Sheffield wine cooler, an ideal container for flowers of the somewhat heavier type. Old Sheffield candelabra, with ivory lighted tapers, an exquisite inlaid drop-leaf table, inlaid with boxwood, Georgian chairs, upholstered in leather, and inlaid with brass; old English cut-glass decanters set in Sheffield coasters and an old Sheffield tea urn were other items of interest. Two Venetian scenes, by Vivian, and a set of Bartolozzi prints of the months, in Hogarth frames, were hung on the walls, and a beautiful collection of Oriental rugs on the floor introduced a warm note of color and charm.

THE FRENCH ROOM

Great interest centred in the display of drawing-room furniture, which had been arranged by Mr. and Mrs. H. Currie, of the Antique Galleries, and was chiefly of the Louis XV and Louis XVI periods. The room took on a completely new aspect with such furnishings and a very handsome "trumeau," a large mirror of the Louis XV period was placed at one end, reflecting the many beautiful pieces which were arranged about the main reception hall. The mirror, set in a handsome carved wood gilded frame, was surmounted by a fine old oil painting. Two pier-glasses of the later Empire style were much admired, the combination of a mahogany shelf, with the gilt frame, being noteworthy.

Charming Louis Seize chairs, delicate in design and perfect in every detail, were placed round a lovely old ormolu mounted table, and carved rosewood and gold chairs were among the other pieces which attracted the attention of the visitors. Slender pedestals known as "torcheres," on which stood a pair of bronze and ormolu mounted candelabra; Louis Seize cabinets, which showed some exquisite detail in their inlaid design; a vase-shaped clock with candelabra to match, and a handsome carved walnut screen, were among the other noteworthy pieces.

Among the lovely pieces of silver were a pair of silver-plated vases, in design, bronze chrysanthemums and a vase-shaped clock with candelabra to match, and a handsome carved walnut screen, were among the other noteworthy pieces.

Organist Spoke in Australia

In connection with the forthcoming visit here of Dr. Sydney H. Nicholson, M.V.O., Mus.D., F.R.C.O., for some years organist at Westminster Abbey, and at present director of music of the School of English Church Music, it has been interesting to discover in Australia and New Zealand papers references to his recent visit to that part of the Empire. He is to lecture in the Memorial Hall next Saturday evening on "Choirs and Places Where They Sing"; on Saturday morning in the Memorial Hall at 10:30 to clergy, ministers, choir masters and organists of any denomination, and on Sunday evening, after Evensong, in Christ Church Cathedral, on "Church Music," with assistance from the Cathedral Choir.

The following is a report of an address Dr. Nicholson gave in the Chapter House of St. Andrew's Cathedral, Sydney, while he was in Australia:

The guiding principle of the School of English Church Music was that laid down by the English bishops: "It must be used in church service; it should express the beauty and dignity of man's worship of Almighty God; be chosen with care and rendered as well as possible." While the effect of music upon worshippers had to be considered, he did not support the contention that no music should be used in a service which the congregation could not join in. One might as well expect a preacher to talk down to the level of the stupidest person present.

CHANGING THE MUSIC

The School of English Church Music has changed its aims, and the school's aims, he said, was to reform the method of teaching the Psalms to have the music fit the words. He had heard no good chanting so far in Australia. Discussing hymn tunes, he urged that the bad ones be disregarded and allowed to die out peacefully. But how was an unmusical clergyman to distinguish a good hymn tune from one that was not so good? he asked.

By means of a blackboard and a piece of chalk, Dr. Nicholson showed him how. Drawing a line through the notes of a few bars of two tunes he obliterated the intervening marks, leaving two graphs, one gently undulating, the other rising sharply to high points and falling steeply. "Now," he said, "suppose you were an artist, and those lines represented the contours of a landscape, which would you prefer to paint?"

PLAYS OPENING BARS

The audience, which included the Archbishop of Sydney (Dr. Mowll), appeared to prefer the more rugged of the two, and Dr. Nicholson confirmed the accuracy of their choice by playing the opening bars of the two hymns on the piano.

"No art so impinges upon people these days as music," said Dr. Nicholson. "With photographs and wireless always running we hear so much music that we cease to listen to it. One's critical faculties are dulled by it. People were far more musical when they did things for themselves, before the gramophone and wireless were invented."

Lake Cowichan

A benefit social was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Mitchell, in aid of the lake basketball club. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. G. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. H. Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. G. There were six tables of court whist in play. Ladies' first prize was won by Mrs. S. Barker; second, Mrs. H. Erickson; consolation, Mrs. H. Mountain; men's first, Mr. C. German; second, Mr. S. Alexander; consolation, Mr. H. Erickson. The club hopes soon to be in a position to compete with neighboring teams.

Mr. G. Hemmington, of the Riverside Hotel, left recently for a holiday in Vancouver, and will proceed, later, to Bellingham.

Mrs. Sydney Scholey has just received the sad news, by cable, of the death of her sister, Mrs. F. Lang, in Germany. She leaves, besides her husband, a son and daughter, and four sisters in England, and one in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Howe, of Victoria, spent last week-end with the Howes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lomas.

Mrs. V. C. Scholey, of Maple Bay, spent a few days, recently, with Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hardinge, "Ingle-side."

Now Science Explains Why So Many People Past 40

Feel That They're Slipping Losing Their "Grip" on Things

It's Often Nothing More Serious Than a Touch of "Acid Stomach"

HOW TO RELIEVE IT

Many people begin to look back on life when 40 rolls around. They worry. Notice they've lost "snap." Have headaches often—Feel "dizzy." Tired and low a lot. Are prone to stomach upsets. They think they're "growing old." Not at all, usually. Scientists say the cause, in a great many cases, is only this: a tendency to an acid condition of the stomach, perhaps the result of faulty diet. Nothing more.

The thing to do is simply to neutralize excess stomach acids. When you have one of these acid stomach upsets, all you do is take Phillips' Milk of Magnesia after meals and before going to bed. Soon you feel like another person. Stomach calm. Fewer headaches. And the pep and energy you thought lost, comes back again!

Try this—Take either the familiar liquid "PHILLIPS'" or the new "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets," convenient to take with you anywhere.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

PREVENTING SERIOUS CONSEQUENCES FROM FLU

The terrible flu epidemic of 1918-19 is not likely to be forgotten by this generation, and despite the fact that epidemics since that time have been light, the medical profession everywhere is seeking for a cause and cure for flu.

Drs. D. and R. Thomson, of the Pickett-Thomson Research Laboratory, London, have just issued two volumes of many hundred pages containing their findings of others regarding flu or influenza. The various and newer methods of treating influenza are outlined in the books, and the results of some of these methods of treatment are spoken of very favorably, but the conclusion is that despite these methods "there is no definite specific remedy for influenza."

If then, there is no "special" remedy for influenza, what should be the "general" treatment for it? Drs. Thomson state that treatment must be directed to the symptoms and condition of the patient and to the relief of any prominent symptoms and complications. They believe that the most important measures in the treatment of influenza are:

1. The patient should go to bed at once, however mild the case, and remain in bed until the temperature has been normal for two days.
2. The intestine should be cleared out daily, or twice daily, as an attack of influenza tends to cause constipation.

3. The patient should be kept warm and encouraged to perspire by means of hot bottles and hot drinks. A powder of ipecac and opium at night is excellent.

4. Stimulants should be given, not at the beginning, but towards the end of the attack, and more especially during convalescence; that is when the patient is up on his feet again about the house.

I believe most physicians will agree with the above method of treatment—to bed immediately, remaining until temperature is normal two days, clearing the intestine, inducing perspiration and the use of stimulants late instead of early in the treatment.

However, as all patients and all symptoms are not alike, treatment will naturally be in accordance with conditions. The main thought is to get in bed immediately; it gives the best chance to prevent serious consequences.

One night a man in a car was run down at the level crossing. Consequently the old signalman in charge had to appear in court. After a grueling cross-examination he was still unshaken. He said he waved his lantern frantically, but all to no avail. The following day the superintendent of the line called him into the office.

"You did wonderfully well yesterday, Tom," he said. "I was afraid at first that you might waver."

"No, sir," replied Tom, "not so long as that lawyer didn't ask me whether my lantern was lit."

Aviator: "Do you wanna fly?"
Cushing Young Thing: "Oh, I'd love to!"
Aviator: "I'll catch you one."

TAX PENALTY IS DUE SOON

Five Per Cent Impost Will Become Effective on Tuesday, December 4

The final penalty on delinquent tax accounts will go into effect on Tuesday, December 4. It was announced yesterday by D. A. MacDonald, city comptroller.

This penalty amounts to 5 per cent, which, when added to the three penalties of 1 per cent each, brings the total up to 8 per cent.

Last year the final penalty date came after Christmas, but it has been advanced this year owing to the reduction in the number of those who paid delinquent accounts after Christmas last year.

There are only four days left in which property-holders may make payment of accounts before the penalty comes into effect. It is expected that this year collection of taxes will exceed the estimate for the year by a substantial amount.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE IS AT PLAYHOUSE

Diminutive Actress Plays Leading Role in "Baby, Take a Bow"—Fine Added Feature

"Baby, Take a Bow," coming to the Playhouse Theatre, today, stars five-year-old Shirley Temple. After her overnight success in "Stand Up and Cheer!" little Shirley has become one of the outstanding personalities on the screen. She has an important part in the picture and is responsible for much of the comedy.

James Dunn and Claire Trevor, who have been teamed in three pictures, are together again in "Baby, Take a Bow," as Shirley's parents. It's a sparkling comedy-drama that gets under way in the first few scenes and maintains a rapid tempo to the exciting finish. The story deals with the struggle for happiness and success of a young man, just out of prison; a girl who marries him because she believes in him, and the result of their union, an adorable baby girl who is the pride and joy of their hearts.

Burr McIntosh, who plays the Professor in "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," the added attraction, was for many years a prominent and picturesque figure of New York's literary and artistic world. McIntosh first won fame as an international news photographer and publisher of the Burr McIntosh Magazine.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol—"The Count of Monte Cristo," starring Robert Donat.

Columbia—Ella Landi in "Man of Two Worlds."

Dominion—"Thine Is My Heart," starring Richard Tauber.

Playhouse—Shirley Temple in "Baby, Take a Bow."

Beautiful Ella Landi for the role. This feature opens, today, at the Columbia Theatre.

She has the part of the beautiful daughter of an English explorer, who brings Lederer, as a Far North hunter, back to London from his native land. The love of the native for the girl, whom he worships as a goddess, is accounted one of the most unusual emotional themes yet adapted for the talkies. The photograph is from the novel by Ainsworth Morgan.

"The Star Packer," starring John Wayne, the added attraction, features Earl Dwire in an important role. Dwire, who made his debut on the stage immediately after his graduation from the University of Oregon, appeared with Robert N. Bradbury for five years. And it is Bradbury who directed him in this Lone Star Production.

DOMINION TO PRESENT FINE COMEDY TOMORROW

For once a black cat brought good luck. This particular feline—Gilmore, by name—proved conclusively to the Joe E. Brown company producing "Six-Day Bike Rider," the first National comedy which comes to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow, that an animal is not always the most temperamental member of a cast.

The company had worked all one afternoon in the blistering sun, and late into the night, on an exterior set, when Director Lloyd Bacon announced that one more scene would be shot—a scene in which a black cat struts across the road, unmindful of those about it.

Gilmore went through a perfect rehearsal, followed immediately by a perfect shot, which allowed the players to rest.

Gilmore was later threatened with indignation because of too many tidbits from the set, and was told to prove a hit.

MERRY WIDOW TO OPEN AT CAPITOL SATURDAY

Jeanette MacDonald—crooner! Music by Frano Lehar, adapted to a Bing Crosby type of vocalization, is a novelty injected into Ernst Lubitsch's production of "The Merry Widow," which comes, Saturday, to the Capitol Theatre, with Maurice Chevalier and Miss MacDonald as co-stars.

This technique is used in the song, "Tonight Will Teach Me to Forget," sung in the boudoir scene where she records in her diary her first meeting with the hero of the story. It is in striking contrast to her romantic rendering of the haunting "Villu."

with peasant chorus and orchestra, in the same setting.

Elaborate settings, costumes, spectacular Albertina Rasch ballets, the great walls, and the original Lehar music, brought to the screen for the first time, mark the huge production.

COLORED DANCERS IN NEW EMPIRE OFFERING

Three extremely clever colored boys, who are billed as "The Three Stepsons," will appear in Victoria, this week-end, at the Empire Theatre, in the latest Orpheum Circuit show to take the road. This programme will be presented tomorrow and Saturday.

Many picture fans will recognize these three colored boys, for they have appeared in a number of recent Hollywood productions. They are among the finest tap dancers to ever appear in vaudeville and are also excellent comedians.

FRASER LISTER TO BE HEARD ON WEDNESDAY

For the forthcoming recital of the Schubert Club, to be given in the Shrine Auditorium next Wednesday, in aid of the Sunshine Inn, Fraser Lister, guest artist, will sing two groups of songs, which will include two numbers by special request, "Harlequin," by Sanderson, and "The Green-Eyed Dragon," by Wolesley Charles. Mr. Lister is well known for his interpretive singing, and these numbers will be much enjoyed.

The choir is preparing some fine choral numbers, including, among several of Schubert's compositions, the beautiful and much-loved "Impatience," from "Thine Is My Heart," which has been so finely sung by Richard Tauber in the film of the same name, which is at the Dominion Theatre this week. Another of the finest of Schubert's lyrical settings is "To Music," in which Georgina Watt will be heard in the solo part. A very descriptive setting, "Sunset," by W. O. Marsh, and of rare beauty, which was given by this choir some two years ago with great success, will be one of the outstanding items on this programme.

Little Bedtime Stories

The Coming of the Great Fear

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Perhaps some of you remember that when Old Mista Buzzard came to the Green Forest and to the Green Meadows there was great fear among the littlest people, until they found out that he was not a member of the Hawk family and would not hurt even the smallest of them. Then, too, some of you will remember the great fear which swept across the Old Pasture, the Green Forest and the Green Meadows because of the Red Terror, which men call fire. That time fear was in the hearts of even the largest of the little people, but more especially those who cannot fly.

At certain times in the Fall when hunters with terrible guns seek to kill there is always a certain amount of fear. But there came a time about which I shall tell you when all these fears seemed as nothing compared to the great fear which swept over the Green Meadows, across the Old Pasture, through the Green Forest and the Old Orchard. It was the fear of the unknown, which is always the worst kind of fear.

Peter Rabbit first heard of it from Sammy Jay, who has been told of it by his cousin, Blacky the Crow, who had gotten it from Red-tail the Hawk. It was quite unbelievable. Peter said he didn't believe it; he wouldn't believe it; he couldn't believe it. Sammy Jay said that he felt just the same way, but that Blacky the Crow had said that Red-tail the Hawk had actually shivered with fright when he told about it.

It seems that Red-tail, according to the story, had been flying very high, very high, indeed. In fact, he had been up on the edge of the clouds, a way he has of doing at times. You know Red-tail can fly very high when he is of a mind to. Way up there, so Red-tail says, it is very, very quiet. Sud-

SILVER SLIPPERS

CHAPTER XLVI

But Joan did worry. She had so much and Drew had so little. With all her generous soul she wanted to help him, and to do it without hurting his pride. She thought a great deal about it, and one night when he came into her sitting-room, moody and unlike himself, and stood staring out of the window, she tucked her arm in his, "Don't you like me?"

He repeated his lover's formula, "I love you," but he did not turn to her.

She leaned her cheek against his coat. "What has happened?"

"Oh a lot of beastly luck." "Bridge again?"

"Yes, and other things." She stood opening and shutting her drawers.

"No, I'm not dependent on your cheque book—yet."

His tone was sharp and stung her. She gave him a startled look. "Are you feeling that way about it, Drew?"

"Yes. A man should give, not take." "No," she said quietly, "not if a woman loves him. My dearest dear, when we are married you shall be the head of the house . . . its master. You know that."

He put his arm about her shoulders, and they stood there together, gazing out. "You're too good for me, Joan," he said at last.

"No. Oh, Drew, don't let my money come between us . . . you break my heart . . ." She clung to him, tears on her cheeks.

"It isn't that. But I'm a weak fellow with a lot of faults. And some day you'll find me out—and hate me."

"Never that," she shivered a little, although the room was hot.

The Carters dined with them that night. Rose asked towards the end of dinner, "What about the bullfight? Can't we make up a party?"

"We might," Drew said, "if it wasn't for Joan. I've been trying to make her think she can go. But she won't hear of it."

"I'd hate seeing the poor beasts," Joan explained.

"You'd forget that," Rose said. "It's a rather gorgeous show."

Joan shook her head. "I'll stay at home, the rest of you can do as you please."

"Drew will do as you please," Rose said, with a touch of venom; "he is quite tied to your apron strings."

"No, he's not," Joan smiled, with the matter of the bullfight, which undisturbed serenely, as she waved her lovely fan to and fro.

Mrs. Carter asked, "Joan, where did you get that fan? It's exquisite."

"Isn't it?" Joan told of its purchase, and Drew added, "This extravagant child paid a fortune for it. There are real pearls in the design."

Rose was critical. "You don't know how to use it, Joan. Not in the Spanish manner. Let me show you." She reached across the table and took the fan from Joan, shook it open with a flourish, and held it before her face, her eyes challenging Drew above it.

Joan had watched her smilingly, but now her smile faded, for it seemed to her that Drew accepted the challenge of Rose's eyes. She did not want to believe it, but there it was, Rose bold and bewitching . . . Drew held by the boldness . . . Bewitched by that flashing glance.

She chided herself for caring. But she did care. She wanted Drew's eyes for her . . . not for other women. Perhaps it was silly . . . in Drew's world men paid court to charming femininity wherever they found it . . . married or single, the game went on. She wondered if when she was married she could stand it to have Drew playing the game?

She told herself that she was not really afraid of Rose. Drew treated her for the most part with a sort of easy intolerance. She amused and flattered him.

She was of his world—and that world was not Joan's. More and more she was aware of it. In spite of her love for Drew, she found herself wondering what her life would be with him. Their standards were utterly different.

She was to him adorable, but a bit mid-Victorian. "It adds to your charm, my sweet, and I wouldn't have you like the others."

Yet he did not take her seriously. Her ideals were, he felt, commend-tables, and many couples dancing in the cleared circle in the centre.

Everybody had been to the bullfight, and there were gathered together people of all nationalities—a brilliant and cosmopolitan group. A tango was being played, and Joan stopped for a moment to watch the slow and graceful measure. And suddenly she watched she was swept by a feeling of loneliness and detachment. What had she to do with this mad world, this restless crowd? She thought of other Sunday afternoons, quiet ones in churches . . . when a child with her mother . . . and not so long ago when she and Penelope had walked through the woods . . .

She thought of the children she had taught before she lived with Aunt Adelaide . . . Oranges and lemons, said the bells of St. Clements . . . you owe me five farthings, said the bells of St. Martin's . . . She thought of little John Briggs and of his sister, Priscilla, she thought of old John Alden . . .

Oh, the wind in the pines, the sound of the sea . . . Loneliness? Yes. But she was lonely here . . . in the midst of a multitude. And now as she looked she saw Drew and Rose swinging and swaying among the others. Rose was a beautiful dancer, exotic in her methods, yet with a touch of reticence which saved her from over-exuberance. She wore a shawl of lacquer-red crepe, a shining Spanish sailor hat, and she carried the fan that Joan had given her. The fan was utterly out of place with an afternoon costume, but Rose made it seem in place. Letting it for the most part swing loose from her wrist, she now and then swept it open in time to the music and gradually it seemed to Joan that the play of the fan had a meaning, as if Rose while she talked and laughed and danced with Drew was weaving a spell. The idea was fantastic, of course, but Joan was glad when the dance was over and Drew joined her.

Defending Champs Retain Crowns in Badminton Finals

Miss Florence Oates Is Only New Champion in Garrison Badminton Club's Annual Tournament—Hocking Captures Three Championships—Mrs. Dobbie Presents Trophies

Defending champions held away yesterday evening, in the finals of the Victoria Garrison Badminton Club's annual championship meet played at the Armories, when they retained their honors in four of the five open events. Miss Doreen Swayne, former women's singles monarch, was the only titleholder to be dethroned when she went down to defeat at the hands of Miss Florence Oates in straight sets.

A small but appreciative gallery witnessed the matches which produced some good badminton, with the mixed doubles final being the best fixture on the lengthy and interesting programme.

WINS THREE TITLES
Ross "Bud" Hocking, strong Garrison player, set the pace by winning three championship events. In the men's singles, he disposed of Tommy Forbes in straight sets, and, partnered with Miss Helen Nicholson, won the mixed event, and captured the men's doubles honors with C. Hugo Rayment as his partner.

Miss Florence Oates, in addition to winning the singles crown, coupled with Miss Doreen Swayne to win the doubles title.

Fine placements and strong overhead smashes by Ross "Bud" Hocking paved the way for his easy victory over Tommy Forbes in the men's singles final, which he won by scores of 15-4, 15-8. Tommy Forbes, who had played steady badminton in the preliminary rounds to reach the final, failed to impress the gallery last night and gave his more experienced opponents some points.

CHAMPION DEFEATED
Playing a strong net game and placing his shots well, Miss Florence Oates scored an impressive and easy win over Miss Doreen Swayne, former champion, in the women's singles match. The defending titleholder failed to show her best championship form and went down to defeat by scores of 11-3 and 11-1.

With Miss Helen Nicholson scoring a number of telling points with her fine work at the net, particularly in the first set, the final set, Miss Nicholson and Ross Hocking chalked up a 15-7 decision, and by so doing, retained their championship.

C. Hugo Rayment and Ross Hocking retained their men's doubles championship by defeating Forbes and Flett in straight sets by scores of 15-11, 15-12. Rayment played a steady game at the net, while Hocking's smashes and placements brought the champions many points.

PRESENTS PRIZES
Mrs. W. H. Dobbie, wife of Major W. H. Dobbie, club president, presented the prizes at the conclusion of the tournament, and congratulated the winners and runners-up as they came forward to receive their trophies.

Mrs. C. Hugo Rayment presented Mrs. Dobbie with a bouquet on behalf of the Garrison Club.

Major Dobbie, in saying goodbye to Tommy Forbes, club member who leaves today for Kelowna, expressed the regrets of the members in losing such a valuable player, and concluded by wishing him every success. Three rousing cheers bore evidence of the popularity gained by Forbes during his short time with the club.

Results follow:
Women's Singles
Miss F. Oates defeated Miss D. Swayne, 11-3, 11-1.
Men's Singles
Ross "Bud" Hocking defeated Tommy Forbes, 15-4, 15-8.

LES PATRICK AFTER SOME NEW PLAYERS

Vic Ripley Released and Bill Cook Back at Old Place—Shake-Up Started

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (CP).—Word came from headquarters of New York Rangers, today, that Vic Ripley had been released outright, and Bill Cook moved from defence back to his old stand on the forward line.

Manager Patrick hastened to announce that these moves did not foreshadow a wholesale shake-up in the National Hockey League team, which has been faltering in the yet young season, but it was reported unofficially that the blue-shirts are dickering with St. Louis Eagles and two other clubs for new playing material.

The reason for the release of Ripley, young Calgary speedster, was not announced.

Moving of Bill Cook back to his old right-wing berth will again place him alongside his brother, Bun, and Centre Frankie Boucher.

Bill was shifted to the rearguard this season and played there in the Rangers' first six games, only two of which have resulted in victories for the men of Patrick.

Meantime the front lines have not been clicking and the old scoring punch has been sorely lacking. Manager Patrick said, "We would like to see some new players, but money would buy the particular players we want. The return of Bill Cook to the forward line will necessitate the buying of another defence player, and we are now making a determined effort to get one. I am hoping a deal will be closed before the end of the week."

Sarnia Winning Championship

Once again Eastern Canadian football champions captured the Dominion grid title when Sarnia's rugged Imperials defeated Regina Roughriders, last Saturday, by a 23-12 score, at Varsity Stadium, Toronto. The top picture shows three Imperials crashing their way to the Regina one-yard line in one of their spectacular power plunges. In the lower photo is shown a major pile-up, with the ball carrier buried deep under the mass. His leg can be seen high in the air as attackers smother him.

Reggie McNamara Will Start in 113th Race

Fifty-Year-Old Six-Day Bike Rider Teams Up With Dave Lands for New York Event—Has Had Great Career Over Span of Thirty Years

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP).—The ageing wonder of the athlete's world, grizzled Reggie McNamara, climbs aboard his bicycle, next week, to compete for six days and six nights—for the 113th time in his career—against bulky-legged, leather-lunged riders, in Madison Square Garden's semi-annual bike marathon.

There is nothing new about six-day bicycle races, but there is something growingly amazing about this fifty-year-old Australian, who, at a time when he might be expected to be sitting back with his pipe and carpet slippers, watching the world go by, is down in the saucer, pedaling, instead.

No other athletic competition, with the possible exception of golf, which scarcely compares in rigors to six-day bike riding, boasts a top-line competitor approaching McNamara's age. Babe Ruth, at forty, is on the sidelines. Jack Dempsey quit at thirty-three. Only Bill Tilden, of the active patriarchs, continues to play pro tennis at forty-one.

McNamara, paired with Dave Lands, of New Jersey, next week, holds all records for cuperative power.

When he was twelve, hunting rabbits with his brother, in South Wales, he stuck his hand into a log after a hiding bunny and was bitten on one finger by a snake. His rugged brother decided there was only one way to save his life. So he chopped the bitten finger off with a hatchet.

In the thirty years he's been riding bicycles professionally, he's been taken apart and put together again like a grandfather's clock, by one doctor after another. His wound stripes include eleven fractures of the collar bones, three broken ribs, fractures of the skull, nose, jaw, both arms and one leg. He's been in and out of hospitals so much he married a nurse.

Yet he has won sixteen races, finished second eleven times, third sixteen times, fourth twelve times, and, like Rabbit Maraville, he doesn't see how this younger crop can hope to get him out of there in the immediate future.

"They'll have to build them faster and stronger," he says, "or they won't ride me off the saucer until I'm sixty."

VANCOUVER ADOPTS VICTORIA PROPOSALS FOR McKECHNIE CUP

Varsity Will Oppose Local "Rep" Fifteen Here January 12—California Rugger to Make Appearance Before Victorians December 26—B.C. Final Also Carded for Here

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28 (CP).—Delegates of the British Columbia Rugby Union, tonight, adopted Victoria proposals in connection with the McKechnie Cup series, set the series dates, named the dates on which the touring rugger team from California will play in British Columbia, and set a tentative date for competition for the Rounsefell Cup, emblematic of provincial supremacy in the English code.

The McKechnie Cup series will open here December 25, with Vancouver Reps meeting University of British Columbia. The second game 1 set for Victoria, with Varsity the visiting team, on January 12. The Island team will conclude the series against Vancouver here on January 26.

The California team will open their tour at Victoria on December 26, then move to Vancouver, where they will meet Varsity on December 29, and Vancouver Reps on January 1.

The Rounsefell series will be played at Victoria in February, the date to be announced later.

VICTORIA GETS WAY
Victoria delegates won their point in connection with distribution of gate receipts at the McKechnie Cup series.

The Vancouver Union favored giving the union complete control of the series, but the Island delegates objected and asked that the gate be split, with 75 per cent going to the home club and the remainder to the union.

The Victoria resolution was carried by a six to three vote. Previously, the series had been a six-game affair, but on motion of the Vancouver Union it was reduced to the three games for this year.

The delegates also accepted the California proposal that each of the clubs represented on the tour put up $500, with a similar amount guaranteed by the British Columbia Union. Information from Harry Maloney, of San Francisco, president of the California Rugby Union, stated that the California clubs had already put up their required sums.

KETCHIN ATTENDS
H. J. Ketchin, of Victoria, honorary secretary of the British Columbia Union, who has been ill for some time, attended the meeting and received the congratulations of the delegates on his recovery.

Other Vancouver Island delegates attending were F. Cabell and A. H. Cox, of Victoria.

Young Football Referee Passes On the Mainland

Tragic coincidence moved today to again break the ranks of Vancouver's soccer referees. A year almost to this day since Jack Gray died from pneumonia contracted after refereeing a game between two Wednesday Soccer League clubs, Jim Wilson, fellow referee, died today from a similar illness after refereeing a match between the same two teams.

Wilson, twenty-eight years old, and one of the youngest soccer referees in the province, was formerly goalkeeper for St. Saviours Club, of Vancouver, in the Senior Inter-City League. He retired from active competition two years ago to take up refereeing.

A cold, caught while handling the game two weeks ago in a pouring rain, developed into pneumonia. He was taken to hospital Sunday night.

Last Summer, Addison journeyed to the Hamilton trials and then to London as a member of the Canadian British Empire track and field team.

SAMUEL RYDER NOT IN FAVOR

Donor of Golf Trophy Balks Against Permitting Henry Cotton Play in Matches

LONDON, Nov. 28 (AP).—Samuel Ryder, donor of the trophy for which British and United States professional golf teams compete annually, said today he was not in favor of the American suggestion that Henry Cotton, British Open champion, be permitted to play in the next matches.

Cotton, though British born and bred, is the professional at the Waterloo Club, in Brussels, Belgium, a foreign affiliation that disqualifies him from the team under the deed of gift.

"If there is a single exception to be made, let both sides agree to it. Alteration would mean the thing could go on indefinitely."

SUGGESTION REJECTED

LONDON, Nov. 28 (AP).—Great Britain flatly rejected, today, the suggestion that Henry Cotton, British Open golf champion, be included in the Ryder Cup team that will meet the United States professional forces, next Summer, in the fifth of the international series.

Samuel Ryder, donor of the cup, and Commander R. C. T. Roe, secretary of the British Professional Golfers' Association, both turned down the suggestion of George R. Jacobus, president of the United States Professional Golf Association, that the greatest golfer in all Great Britain be allowed on the team, despite the fact his residence and work in Belgium bar him under the rules of the deed of gift.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
The Pilgrims Were Not Puritans—The Puritans were those dissenters from the Established Church of England, who held that the English Protestant Church was not Protestant enough. The Pilgrims were Separatists who held that a Church Established in Law was wrong. They advocated independent self-governed local congregations. The Pilgrims fled to Leyden, Holland, from Puritan persecution. When they emigrated to the New World, they were already separated from the Church of England. The Puritans came here as members of the Church of England with no thought of separation. The Pilgrims were an independent colony until 1691, when they merged with the Puritans. Strangely enough it was the Pilgrims—not the Puritans—conception of Church Government which was finally to prevail in Massachusetts and Connecticut.

NAVY AND HUDSON'S BAY TIED FOR LEADERSHIP

Sailors Win Over Garrison XI After Hard-Fought Match

Goals by Marr, Walker and De Costa Give Blue-jackets 3-1 Victory Over Work Point Lads — Bays Blank Maccabees, 5-0, to Share Top Berth — Spencers Beat Rangers, 4-0

HAYWARD CUP SERIES

	W.	L.	D.	Pts.
Navy	5	2	0	10
Hudson's Bay	4	1	2	10
Garrison	4	2	3	8
Spencers	3	2	1	7
Rangers	3	4	1	7
Maccabees	0	7	1	1

Continuing their triumphant march at the expense of the Garrison footballers, Navy slipped into a two-way tie for premier position in the race for the Hayward Cup in the Wednesday Football League, yesterday afternoon, at Work Point Barracks, by defeating the Tommies, 3 to 1, in a fiercely fought fixture, which was witnessed by a good crowd, and played during intermittent rains and on a slippery pitch. Hudson's Bay, who are deadlocked with the sailors, got back into the win column by trimming the Maccabees, 5-0, at the Royal Athletic Park, while Spencers proved too strong for the Rangers and came through by a 4-0 count.

Netting their first marker in the first three minutes, the Navy proved the best team against the soldiers and their two-goal victory well denotes the margin they held against their opponents. True, the Tommies pressed extremely hard in the second half and were continually swarming around the sailors' net with repeated attacks, but a sound and stubborn Navy back division never faltered the least bit.

SCORES EARLY
Rushing through shortly after the opening whistle, the sailors soon were in the lead, Dave Marr catching hold of a rebound off the goalie to give them a fast start. In the quarters, Glendinning could have cleared a score for the sailors but instead of staying in his goal, Marr was quick to take advantage and made no mistake. It was this goal which urged the blue-jackets on and they had the better of the territorial play for the remainder of the half. Several times Dick Miller nearly equalized but each time his shots were grazing the framework.

Will De Costa had a great chance to widen his team's lead but skied over with nobody but the goalie to beat, while Edwards tricked in close and let go with a powerful shot, but Caldwell pushed it over the bar for a corner. The Navy's second goal was of a peculiar variety. After a goal kick, Marr sent the leather back to the goalie, and from the clearance, Hokey Walker headed through, much to Glendinning's surprise.

PENALTY GIVEN
Going away on a fast attack, the soldiers got their first and lone goal when Alex Whyte raced across the goal area and brought Miller down with a heavy body charge. McAllister registered from the spot kick with a fine shot to the corner. The sailors were still pressing at the interval, and also, still out in front, 2-1.

Taking up the attack, the soldiers gave the sailors plenty of work in the second half. They continually pressed and did everything but score. They forced several flag kicks, some of which McAllister placed in front of the net, and still they couldn't get home the equalizer. Brilliant defensive work by Robinson, Hutton, McDonald, and the two backs, Dovey and Whyte, proved a stumbling block to the Garrison.

After De Costa had skied over from Bennallack's corner, and Tommy had missed with a fast shot, the sailors put the game away, when Will De Costa scored with an accurate drive, well out of the goalie's reach. The goal came from Bennallack's flag kick. Although the Garrison tried hard to close the gap they failed after some hard attacks. Just before the finish, Caldwell made a sensational diving save from the toe of Cook. It was easily the best stop of the match.

McMillan handled the match well, and the teams follow:
Garrison—Glendinning; S. Bichard, H. Glendinning; McAllister, Evans, Featherstone; Wilkinson, Worwick, Miller, Edwards and Cook.

Gaining a one-goal lead in the initial half when Bissell's marker was the only score, Spencers ran in three additional tallies in the final canto to register a 4-0 victory over the Outer Wharf Rangers at Heywood Avenue. Having as much of the territorial play as their opponents the Rangers owe their defeat to their weakness in front of the net and one or two brilliant saves by Norm Stewartson, opposing goalie.

Playing on a slippery field and with a ball that soon became greasy and soggy, the clubs hit a terrific pace in the first half, with play veering from one end of the field to the other.

Ten minutes after the match started, Spencers netted the only marker of the first half when Bissell scored into an empty net, when Ken Fleming, Rangers' goalie, in coming out to save, slipped on the ground and could not pick himself up quick enough to get back in his goal.

Rangers staged a dangerous early offensive in the second half, and Les Gelling grazed the crossbar with a terrific drive. Minutes later, the same player missed the corner of the net by inches.

Spencers cleared this attack and went away fast, with Bob Browne carrying the ball at his feet. Closing in on the Rangers' goal, Browne sent in a long shot which Fleming fumbled momentarily, and Borden rushed in to make sure of the marker. Two minutes later, Borden gave the diamond "S" boys a 3-0 lead when he robbed Belford of the ball in Rangers' penalty area and went on to score in the corner of the goal. The final tally came about five minutes later when Bob Browne's shot went off Ken Fleming's foot as he was attempting to save.

Woody refereed the first half and Hewison the second half, and the teams follow:

Spencers—Stewartson; Munroe, Bissell, Borden, Belford, Browne, Russell, Clarke, Borden and Morgan.

Outer Wharf Rangers—Fleming; Bissell, Borden, Belford, Browne, Russell, Clarke, Borden and Morgan.

BAYS BLANK MACCABEES
Manager Dick Eaton's Hudson's Bay eleven blanked the Maccabees 5-0, at the enclosure. The green and gold aggregation outplayed their opponents for the greater part of the distance and were full value for their victory.

Ten minutes from the end of the match, "Tubby" Stevens, of the Hudson's Bay, was ordered from the field by Referee Cull for questioning his decision and then talking back.

Opening on the offensive, the green and gold aggregation broke into the scoring column in the first five minutes of the match when Tommy Musgrave beat Poole, Maccabees' net minder. Fifteen minutes later, Stevens made it 2-0, and then Wally Stewart, clever outside left, completed the first half scoring when he scored with a hot drive from the wing.

Charlie Richards put the Bays up 4-0, in the second half when he scored following a corner.

Maccabees took up the attack, and Chapman was tripped in the penalty area. Fieldhouse took the spot kick and drove the leather over the crossbar.

Breaking fast from the goal kick, the Bays carried play to their opponents' end of the field. Don Fish sent in a long shot, and T. Graves, Maccabees' fullback, in attempting to clear, booted the ball into his own goal to conclude the scoring.

Cull refereed and the teams follow:

Hudson's Bay—Okell; Wyatt, Brown; Carr, Kennedy, Oakman; Fish, Richards, Musgrave, Stevens and Stewart.

Maccabees—Poole, T. Graves, Speller, M. McBride, A. McBride, Fieldhouse; Embrey, Chapman, Jack, W. Graves and Wilmhurst.

WEST ROAD CAGERS IN 38-23 WIN

Defeat Lake Hill to Tie Up Third Position—Cardinals and Hawks Win

Dropping through seven hard-earned baskets in the final half, the West Road quintette jumped into a tie for third position in the men's senior "B" section of the Victoria and District Basketball League, last evening, at the High School Gymnasium, by defeating Lake Hill, 38 to 23. The win puts the West Roaders in a deadlock with the Hill cagers, one game behind the second-place Colonist squad. Cardinals chalked up their third win of the season in the girls' intermediate "A" division by nosing out Burnetts, 20-18, while Black Hawks took the intermediate "A" boys' tussle from Fernwood Merchants, 33-28.

The West Road-Lake Hill argument was a real tough battle all the way with the former always holding the upper hand. A trio of fine field goals by Wally Butler helped West Road to enjoy a 15-12 lead at the interval. The second half saw the teams going at a furious pace with the winners outscoring their opponents again by a comfortable margin.

HAWKS COME THROUGH
Running in nine baskets and converting two awarded shots, Black Hawks came from behind to defeat Fernwood Merchants. The latter quintette started off in a blaze of glory and were leading at the rest period, 19-13, but could not keep up the fast pace in the final stanza.

Gaining a four-point lead in the opening two quarters, and then holding their own in the last stages of the game, Cardinals managed to eke out victory against Burnetts. The teams checked hard throughout, and it was anybody's game until the final whistle.

Alan Le Marquand refereed and teams follow:

West Road—Charles Morgan (5), O. Lannon (6), Butler (6), M. Lannon (5), Clarence Sluggert (5), James Hill (4), R. Mitchell (3), Jones, Atkinson (4), Bates, Cunningham (2), B. Mitchell (3), McConnell, M. Atkinson (2).

Fernwood Merchants—Price (5), Vout (4), Thomas (4), Denstedt, Wilson, Noel, Passmore (9), Hughes (2), Duckworth (4).

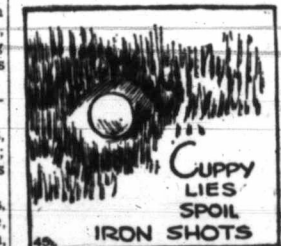

Black Hawks—Myers (8), Crowe (2), Sparks (11), Smith, Cliff (8), Stancil, Jewsbury (4).
Burnetts—D. Beere (6), M. Purdy (1), J. Wilson (7), B. McDonald, J. McDonald, E. Miles (4), J. Jones, Cardinals—V. Hannan (4), J. Finch (2), B. Crosby (4), J. Trotter, C. V. Hall (2), E. Gaunt, M. Wells (1), M. Lewis (2), D. O'Connor (2).

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!

By ALEX J. MORRISON

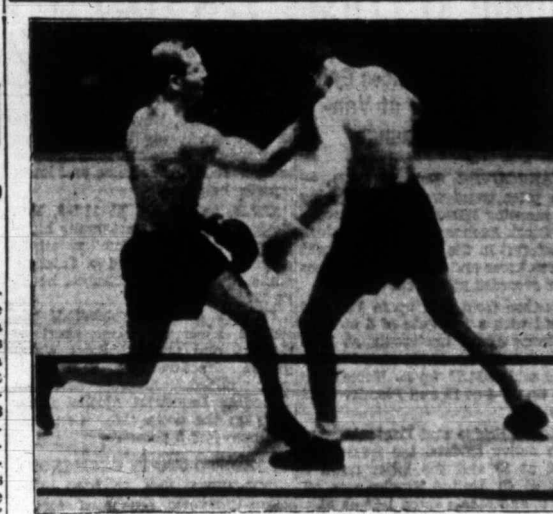

This time of the year finds most of the fairways in the cold country comparatively rough. Most courses are played under winter rules, which permit the selection of a good lie through the fairway.

A few courses decline to follow this rule, insisting that the ball be played as it lies. This works a hardship on the player, particularly the one who depends a lot on iron play.

When the ball rests on uneven ground a certain amount of digging must be done to lift it.

In digging for the ball the player is bound to set himself for contact of the clubhead with the rough ground, or he probably will let the face of the club turn as it strikes the ground. In either case he's suffering the loss of smoothness and ease in his swing. This tightening up soon affects the rest of his game.

Rosenbloom Losing Title

High Quintette Trims College By 42-14 Score

Victoria High School girls' basketball team, yesterday, defeated a Victoria College quintette, 42 to 14, in the High School gymnasium, in the first of the inter-school matches.

Doreen Beere with sixteen points and Margaret Purdy tallying fourteen points led the local High School team in its win. The half-time score was 22-4 in favor of High School, and at no time in the game were they in danger of losing the lead.

Mona Miller refereed and the teams lined up as follows:

College—Jessie McDonald (4), K. Coates, V. Hannan (10), F. Graham, G. Gardner, N. Peterson, M. Kennedy, D. Luchley and J. Chastanet.
Victoria High School—D. Anderson (14), Virginia Graham (8), E. Gault, H. Smith, V. Sinclair and Jessie Parr.

DES ANDERSON AND CUMMING ON MAT CARD

Popular Seattle Grappler Is Matched With New Arrival in Coast Circles

By popular demand, Danny McDonald, the clever Toronto middleweight, and Bob Wagner, of Manchester, N.H., will meet again Saturday evening in the main event of the weekly wrestling programme at the Tillicum Gymnasium.

After their sensational battle of last week, the wrestling enthusiasts almost demanded a return battle between these two great wrestling stars.

This bout undoubtedly brings together two of the greatest young middleweight prospects ever developed in America. McDonald has already proven that he is the best middleweight produced in Canada in many years by advancing to the semi-finals in the Olympic games in both 1926 and 1932.

Promoter Richardson announced his full programme yesterday. For the curtain raiser he has secured two fast local lads, Gardner and Hay, who will go four three-minute rounds. A special four five-minute round event will bring together Pat Griffin and Johnny Masters, who have met numerous times with the decisions about even.

Wagner uses a large variety of holds, while McDonald knows how to block most of the grappling game's best weapons.

Des Anderson, the star of the Northwest wrestling scene, is here to meet Bob Cumming, of Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, in the semi-windup battle of the five-minute rounds. Anderson will be returning after triumphs in the Eastern section of Canada and the United States for this contest.

Without a doubt one of the cleverest men ever to appear in a Victoria ring, the fans will remember Des for the great battles he waged here a year or two ago. He certainly won a great following here at that time, and his many friends here are expected to turn out en masse to welcome him back.

NEW ON COAST
Cumming is a recent arrival on the Pacific Coast. He has been meeting the best grapplers in the East with remarkable success and welcomed the chance to meet so formidable a foe as Anderson. Bob is a rough-house grappler, who also combines science in his mat attack.

Cumming comes here rated as a capable middleweight. He has headlined wrestling cards in all sections of the world and is looking forward to his bout with Anderson as a chance to establish himself in this section of the country.

HOLLYWOOD GOLFERS
Bing Crosby, a five handicap player who shoots well in the 70's, is easily the best golfer in Hollywood. Irene Dunne is the best woman golfer.

The National Hockey League has three teams named after birds, St. Louis Eagles, Detroit Falcons and Chicago Black Hawks, and only one representative from the animal kingdom, Boston Bruins.

"BOYCOTT"

We have this word after Captain Boycott, who in 1880 was the agent for Lord Erne, wealthy English landowner who rented out his farms. The tenant farmers greatly resented Captain Boycott's harshness, and finally, in a body, petitioned for his removal—a request ignored by the principal.

In retaliation, the tenant farmers got together and taboed the agent. None of the land was tilled. No rental was paid. And nobody else was permitted to work the farms. Eventually the troops were called before heard out to protect "scab" harvesters of the crop.

Though the landlord was victorious, the group method of his tenants was adopted by the Land League of Ireland in its struggle against the absentee landlord system, the name of Captain Boycott being applied to this method of mass resistance.

Language difficulties in Africa give rise to amusing situations. On one occasion, a well-known judge, though bi-lingual himself, employed a man to interpret in Afrikaans. During the hearing a difficult point arose.

Judge—Tell the witness the court is on the horns of a dilemma.

Interpreter to Witness—The judge says he is now on the horns of an animal of which I myself have never before heard

MRS. HARDIE DIDN'T WANT ME TO INVEST DENNIE'S FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS IN JOE'S STORE, BUT I'VE GOT TO DOUBLE IT SOME WAY, SO I CAN TAKE DENNIE TO WESTCHESTER CLINIC FOR TREATMENTS, AND SELLING APPLES WILL NEVER DO IT.

HERE'S THE MONEY FOR THE NOTE, JOE. I HOPE I'M NOT LATE.

YOU'RE JUST IN TIME, APPLE MARY. TH' MAN IS HERE ASKING FOR IT, AND THINKS I HAVEN'T BEEN ABLE T' RAISE IT.

RIOTERS GIVEN STIFF SENTENCES

Quebec Judge Administers Severe Lecture for Practice of Communist Methods

AMOS, Que., Nov. 28 (CP).—Communist principles will not be tolerated in this district or anywhere else in Canada, Mr. Justice Ramea Langlais, Quebec, told sixteen foreign-born laborers convicted of participating in riots at Noranda mines last summer, in sentencing them here, yesterday, to two years each in the penitentiary and deportation. A seventeenth striker, recommended to the clemency of the court, will be deported after serving six months in jail.

The court remarked to the prisoners that their union had given them bad advice concerning their being parties to the mine strike. "Citizens are peaceable here and do not believe in Communist tenets," Mr. Justice Langlais declared. "We welcome strangers to this country; give them work and pay them wages. Instead of being grateful, you wanted to start trouble in this region, which is destined to a great future. You wanted to upset it all for which you will be bitterly sorry."

Virginia Vane Says:

YOUNG WIFE'S CAREER SHOULD LIE IN BEING ASSET TO HUSBAND

My Dear Miss Vane: I have been married for a short time, and though I am happy in having a husband I am not completely satisfied.

I am only eighteen years old, and all my life have wanted to have a career. I have a good voice and feel that if I had the opportunity I would make good.

My husband has a very bright future. He is a graduate of one of our leading universities, has wonderful friends, and without me I believe he would soon achieve success. My education has been extremely limited, as you can see from this letter, and I know that I am a handicap to my husband socially.

On the other hand, my husband will not hear of me having a career and is furious whenever I mention my aspirations in that direction.

Don't you think, Miss Vane, that we are both standing in the other's way, and that a separation at this early stage would be better than trying to make a go of something that seems so hopeless?—Uncertain.

I am afraid that my sympathies are with your young husband in this matter. And if you weren't so young, you would realize the difficulties you would let yourself in for if you forsake your husband's love and affection to try your worth at the uncertainties of a stage career. You must realize that there are many women in this country that have good voices, excellent voices in fact, and that they would all be prima donnas if a good voice and the desire were all that were needed. It takes years of the most rigorous kind of training to mold that pleasing voice you now have into an instrument sufficiently beautiful to bring the great American public back for more. I do not honestly believe that you have the stuff required to survive the monotonous discipline of such a career as you now contemplate. If your ambition had been strong enough, you wouldn't have gotten yourself married at such an early age, nor to a man who wasn't completely in sympathy with your idea. No, it would appear that the best possible thing for you to do is to give up your dreams of fame and fortune for the present at least, and direct the energy such a course would employ to the overcoming of those things that you now feel handicap your husband's chances for success.

You seem to be perfectly aware of the deficiencies that might hold your husband back, and instead of writing them off as items impossible of correction, it is up to you to start right out to overcome them. You are very young, you know, and if you were to decide now that your aim in life is to be an asset to your husband instead of a liability, you would soon find yourself thought of as the best hostess and most charming dinner guest, and certainly the best wife in the town.

Doesn't that appeal to you more than the recognition an uncertain voice career suggests?

Anxious: I should think that your boy friend's treatment of his last lady-love would warn you away from him. The very fact that you yourself noticed that his last girl wasn't making as much of a salary as you are, would indicate that money is a pretty important factor in this young man's affections. Don't for a minute think of eloping with this Don Juan before he has given you more assurance of his genuine love for you.

To be perfectly frank, this boy friend can't be very much of a man. No real man could have accepted the favors he did from his last girl friend, and then at the end of six years give her up. He probably thought at one time that he loved her as much as he now says he loves you, but his love isn't the stable kind that makes for real married happiness. No, you would do well to take a long time in making up your mind on his proposal, and I would strongly suggest that you look around for someone more constant in his affections.

LET HUSBAND TAKE JOB

Ellen: I know that the ideal thing for you to do would be to persuade your husband not to take the menial job he has been offered, but unfortunately we cannot be idealistic in these days when jobs are so scarce. As you say, the proposition upon which he has his heart set may not materialize for the next five years, and during that time you would be living from hand to mouth.

Admit to him that you see his point, but that his duty to his family is first and foremost. It is also very possible that if he were to have to endure the privations of unemployment during the next five years, he would not be physically nor mentally fit to bring off the proposition to a successful issue. You have been a brick and a true wife to have stood for poverty so long; when your husband was in a position to get a job any time he wanted it, I know that his love would not be affected by your practical turn of mind.

NAVY TRAINING SHIP IS COMING

Jeanne d'Arc Will Visit Victoria on Jan. 4, French Consul Advises

Mayor David Leeming was advised yesterday by the French consul in Vancouver that the 6,500-ton French training ship, Jeanne d'Arc, would visit Victoria for three days, commencing January 4. An invitation to the ship was extended by the City Council.

The officer commanding the training ship is Capitaine de Caisseaux Yves Donval, officer of the Legion of Honor, former naval attaché in London, and distinguished figure in the Morocco campaign during the Great War.

Second in command is Capitaine de Frigate Aubert, while Capitaine de Frigate Sanson is joint officer.

DISTINGUISHED CHAPLAIN

The ship carries the distinguished chaplain, Reverend Father Pierra, officer of the Legion of Honor, an artillery officer from 1904 to 1911, and an aviation officer during the war, commanding the Champagne Army Air Force, who was ordained priest in 1932.

The ship is 170 metres (about 183 yards) long, has a beam of seventeen metres seventy centimetres, and a draught of five metres seventy centimetres.

HIGHLY POWERED

It is fitted with Parsons turbines, developing 32,500-horsepower, with a speed of twenty-seven knots.

It has eight 155-millimetre and four seventy-five-millimetre guns, as well as two torpedo tubes. The ship was constructed at St. Nazaire, France, and launched on February 14, 1930.

The staff and crew include twenty-seven officers, 133 midshipmen and 500 non-commissioned officers and sailors.

What Today Means

"SAGITTARIUS"

If November 29 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:30 a.m. until noon, from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m., from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. and from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Thanksgiving Day should enable you to recall to mind some of the many good things that have happened to you in the past twelve months. Their remembrance ought to be sufficient to enable you to celebrate this day with the proper spirit of thanksgiving. Family and friends should help make this an enjoyable period of social relaxation. There is a likelihood of your meeting with one who loves to mouth fallacious sophistries, seemingly getting delight from the mental turmoil created by discordant thought implanted by suggestion. If you are wise, the seeds of doubt will be cast from your mind as soon as they have been disseminated. News of a joyous nature may possibly be received during the day. An argument may arise among some relatives or friends on this day; show your good judgment by keeping out of it. You will possibly be entitled to an apology from an absent-minded friend for an unintentional slight on their part. It will be tactful to accept the excuse offered. Married and engaged couples, as well as the lovers, will have nothing to regret if they make their motto on this date: "Moderation."

If a woman, and November 29 is your birthday, it should prove to be one of the happiest you have had. An unexpected amount of good luck is likely to come your way very soon, causing any troubles you may have had to seem like only dreams of unreality. Do not let ambition make you indifferent to love, for success without it might not be satisfying. Your visions of being able to do big things will probably be realized, if you persevere and do not allow partial success to go to your head. Marriage may not appear in your eyes necessary for your happiness, but actually you might find more contentment through it.

The child born on November 29, as soon as it is capable to reason, should be taught not to harbor resentment. This child may be rather sensitive, so should not be subjected to any form of teasing. Brightly mentally, with proper training it can face life fearlessly.

If a man, and November 29 is your natal day, it might be well for you to remember most big things start in a small way. Curb any impatience you might feel if your progress is not as rapid as you think it should be. The pulpit, lecture platform, legal and literary professions offer channels through which you might travel to distinction.

Plane Exhibited At World's Fair In Service Now

Through with its job as a display piece for millions of World's Fair visitors, a high-speed Boeing transport has gone into regular service on the Pacific Northwest-Chicago-New York route of United Air Lines, according to advice received by United officials.

The plane, a Model 247-D of the type flown by Colonel Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn, in the recent London-Melbourne air race, was on exhibition in the dome of the Travel and Transport Building at the Century of Progress, as an example of the latest type airplane design and construction. Estimates are that more than 4,000,000 people went over an especially-constructed catwalk to view the passenger cabin, pilot's compartment and other features.
